FOUR KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Two More Fatally Injured and Scores of Others Hurt in Chicago Disaster.

NINE TANKS WERE BLOWN UP

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Four persons were killed and a score were injured by a series of gas explosions that completely destroyed the plant of the Pyle Electric Headlight Company in South Chicago today. Buildings near the demolished plant were badly damaged, windows were shattered for blocks, and persons walking in the streets were thrown from their feet. Over pressure on tanks containing gas is believed to have caused the accident.

THE DEAD:

RALPH WELLS, superintendent for the Pyle National Electric Headlight Company.

AMOS WATKINS, assistant superintendent for same company.

FATALLY INJURED:

WILLIAM M. MALONEY, blown from third floor of building; body crushed.

ALFRED COX, internally injured.

Many persons who were walking in the street near the plant were hurt by flying pieces of debris, and were taken to their homes in carriages before their names were learned.

All of the dead were buried under tons of burning timber and hot brick and iron, making it impossible to remove their bodies until hours after the accident.

The Pyle National Electric Headlight Company is largely engaged in supplying illumination for railroad coaches. This illuminant is forced into small retorts, which when attached under the floor of a car, will supply it with light for months. In order to make this possible, the retorts are subjected to an extremely high pressure. It was such a tank that caused the first explosion. Then retort after retort exploded in rapid succession. There were nine such explosions in all, which left the plant in flames. Hard fighting on the part of 100 firemen finally subdued the flames. The total loss caused by the accident is estimated at $75,000.

ANOTHER AIRSHIP MAKES FIZZLE AT THE FAIR

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 18.—T. C. Benbow's airship was cast loose in the aeronautic concourse at the world's fair today, and ascended 80 feet. Just as the flying machine was about to clear the fence of the concourse, the anchor caught and held it fast. After being released the hooks caught in a tree and the machine, after being up for nearly five minutes, was brought to the ground again and housed in the aerodrome.

When the airship's drag rope caught in the tree the position of the navigator was extremely perilous. The machine was pitching and tossing on the end of the rope, and it was only by the utmost exertion Benbow prevented himself from being thrown from the basket. He finally released his hold with one hand, and, in imminent danger of being tossed from the car, lowered a second rope to the ground and was pulled safely down.

NEGOTIATIONS TO MAKE LEISHMAN AMBASSADOR

PARIS, Nov. 18.—A dispatch to the Temps from Constantinople says that negotiations have been resumed for raising the American legation to the rank of an embassy, which will make Minister J. G. A. Leishman of Pittsburgh an ambassador.

Block Burned; Two Men Injured.

LANCASTER, Nov. 18.—The Walker & Eby business block at Gap was destroyed by fire tonight, and Joshua Hershey and Benjamin Sellers were probably fatally burned. The loss will exceed $80,000. The principal losers, besides George T. Sellers, a hardware dealer, are the Gap National bank, the Gap academy and the Gap social club.

AMERICA HAS ONE MORE BIG OPPORTUNITY

Russia's Naval Program Will Largely Benefit This Country's Steel Industries.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 18.—America is likely to profit, both directly and indirectly, from the execution of the large naval program which Russia is now elaborating.

The vital importance of the sea power has been Russia's bitterest lesson of the war, and the government is fully aware the maintenance of the empire's position in future as a first-class power will be impossible without an adequate navy. If the losses the Pacific fleet has already sustained should be followed by disaster to Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, it will not only be necessary to rebuild the whole navy, but to increase its strength.

While some of the contracts will be placed abroad, owing to the limited facilities of Russian yards—and it is expected at least one big ship will be constructed in America—the admiralty's plans will be directed toward ultimate divorce from dependence on foreign shipbuilders, by the organization at home of vast shipbuilding, armor plate, ordnance and kindred industries. For this purpose, it is realized, however, foreign builders and specialists must be attracted.

Vickers' Sons, Maxim & Armstrong, and Whitworth & Co., Limited, of England, have already made advances, but owing to the anti-English sentiment, British firms are not meeting with very cordial reception. The disposition is to turn toward France, Germany and the United States, and a great plant at Libau, or on the banks of the Neva, directed by American brains, and possibly in association with French and German enterprise, is one of the possibilities of the near future.

THE HUMBIRD SUIT A FRIENDLY PROCEDURE

Action Was Brought to Obtain Legal Interpretation of a Will's Provisions.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CUMBERLAND, Nov. 18.—A report was sent from here recently that suits had been entered by J. Wilson Humbird of this city against his brother, James S. Humbird of Pittsburgh, and the inference was drawn that the proceeding implied a breach between the brothers. This is emphatically denied. Mr. J. Wilson Humbird says that there was but one suit and that it was a friendly action taken under the advice of counsel in the interest of both parties.

The father of the parties left a large estate which is administered under the directions left in his will. Mr. J. Wilson Humbird says: "Certain parts of the will require interpretation and to obtain this suit was brought upon an open account by attachment upon the trustees, so as to bring the whole matter into court in order that all doubtful points shall be settled. I appeared in the proceeding as plaintiff and my brother as defendant by arrangement between us, and the whole proceeding is amicable."

Mr. James S. Humbird of Pittsburgh spent six weeks in this region recently in connection with plans for the construction of a trolley road from Cumberland to Moorefield, W. Va., in which enterprise he is associated with Mr. J. Wilson Humbird.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Nov. 18.—A Fernie (B. C.) dispatch says 14 miners were killed at the Carbonado mines near Morrisey this afternoon as a result of an explosion of coal gas. All the bodies have been recovered.

DOCTOR'S TRUNK ROBBED OF $20,000 IN JEWELRY

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Dr. Samuel J. Holley, a prominent physician of Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. Holley, who are in this city, have reported to the central detective bureau that one of their trunks has been rid of jewelry valued at nearly $20,000. The stolen jewels consist of a string of gems worth $15,000, it is said, a diamond ring worth $1,000, a stick pin and a number of miscellaneous articles of jewelry.

NAN PATTERSON APPROVED JURY

SHUDDERS WHILE IN COURT

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—This is the jury which is to try Nan Patterson on the charge of having murdered "Caesar" Young: Elwood Hendrick, foreman, of Pomroy Bros., brokers; Harry L. Johnson, drygoods merchant; Harvey J. Ubert, liquor dealer; Robert Henry, formerly superintendent for a department store; Harry S. Lines, real estate; John H. Poggenburg, lithographer; Jacob J. Green, skirt manufacturer; Howard H. Risley, 59 years old; Edward Dressler, real estate dealer; Wilson Potter, an architect; Elmer A. Darling, one of the proprietors of the Fifth Avenue hotel; Charles W. Graham, publisher, and very wealthy. The jury was completed this afternoon. Every man of the 12 had passed Miss Patterson's careful scrutiny. Even up to the last man her approval was necessary, and of him she said:

"Yes, I like him very much. Take him."

After Justice Davis had addressed the usual admonition to the jury, court was adjourned to next Monday morning. Then Assistant District Attorney Rand, the chief prosecutor, will make his opening address. In this he has promised to review not only the evidence he will introduce, but also the whole life of Nan Patterson.

Nan Patterson Shuddered.

When the acceptance of the last juror was practically decided on, Mr. Levy, chief counsel for the defense, turned to ask one more question.

"Now, Mr. Graham," he said, in a solemn voice, "if you are accepted here and allowed to take the twelfth seat in the jury box it will be with a full realization on your part, will it not, that upon you may rest the fate of a human being and the question of life and death for this girl?"

Nan Patterson was looking full in the face of the young talesman as the question was asked. As the word "death" rang out in the stillness of the court room a slight shudder passed through the girl's frame. It seemed all at once to bring fully home to her the awful position in which she is placed. Mr. Graham nodded his head solemnly that he realized his responsibility.

Just before leaving the courtroom Nan Patterson said to her counsel: "I am very well pleased with this jury. I especially liked the last man. They all seemed to be excellent men." Her father also expressed himself in similar terms. Eighty-nine talesmen had been examined and the defense had used 28 of its peremptory challenges and the prosecution 15.

After the twelfth juror was sworn, the first one chosen, the foreman, Elwood Hendrick, requested to be allowed to get off. "My mother-in-law is very sick," he said.

Guarding Against Vengeance.

Mr. Levy refused to excuse him. "It would be hard to duplicate any of the men selected for this jury," he said.

The enmity which developed this morning between counsel for the defense and

TO TURN OUT BATTLESHIPS

What Krupps Is to Germany, Bethlehem Will Be to America.

SCHWAB'S AMBITION

His New Corporation Will Dominate World's Steel Trade, He Declares.

HE OUTLINES VAST PLANS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.

Out of the wreck of the United States Shipbuilding Company will arise a rehabilitated corporation, which, if Charles M. Schwab's plans are fulfilled, will dominate the world's markets for ordnance, armament and the manufacture of high-grade steel goods.

Said Mr. Schwab today: "The Bethlehem Steel Company is to be the greatest producer of fine steel in the United States. With the United States Steel Corporation it was a question of tonnage of the heavier forms of steel and iron. The Bethlehem Company has long been noted as a producer of fine steel, and its trade mark is a synonym of perfection. It has been content to make gun forgings and armor plate, but we are now rapidly going ahead to turn out at the Bethlehem plant all sorts of tools, guns and gun forgings, which require the highest grade of workmanship.

"You have heard of the great Krupp plant at Essen, Germany; the Armstrong works and those of Vickers' Sons and Maxim, of England, where a battleship is built complete with guns, projectiles, armor plate and even the electric bell in the captain's quarters. All sorts of guns are made in those works from the 12-inch to the peashooter.

Will Make Another Krupp's.

"It is my intention to make of Bethlehem what Krupps is to Germany and Vickers' Sons and Maxim and Armstrong are to England. We have the plant, the men, the market and the capital. Bethlehem now has 10,000 men employed at its works. There are 50 engineers, and scores of draughtsmen constantly drawing and inventing new guns, new tools and new machines to be used in construction of these implements.

"One of my best products, of which I am exceedingly proud, is a new 6-inch quick-firing gun made at the Bethlehem plant. This gun, I think, will be in demand the world over among nations which maintain navies. It has been successfully demonstrated it will fire eight rounds a minute. The experiments took place at the Sandy Hook proving grounds by the ordnance department of the army. There have been several 6-inch quick-firing guns tried of late, but the Bethlehem product stood the test.

"Hitherto Bethlehem has made the forgings and allowed the government to complete the gun; we now propose to do all the finishing work ourselves. By retaining the Union iron works or the Harlan and Hollingsworth plants, we will be in a position to finish a battleship complete from stern to bow."

Will Use Own Products.

"Do you propose to enter into contracts with any of the foreign concerns, so as to use their patents?" Mr. Schwab was asked.

"No, I do not believe it is necessary. We will use our own products, and develop if not improve upon the patents used abroad. Naturally, I feel the sting of the criticism to which I was subjected for my connection with the Bethlehem company in the shipbuilding investigation, and it has spurred me on to make the company in its rehabilitated state one of the great industrial factors in the United States.

"Our products will not come in competition with the United States Steel Corporation. The two companies will work in harmony at points where the lines of production meet, and prices will be maintained.

"I notice a dispatch from Berlin stating the Turkish government had placed an order for $10,000,000 worth of artillery in Germany, England and France. Why does not this business come to the United States? I hope when the Bethlehem plant is working at its best we will be able to capture the business from the world."

PANAMA GENERAL RESIGNS.

PANAMA, Nov. 18.—(Copyright Cable.)—Gen. Huertas, commander-in-chief of the Panama army, having resigned, President Amador, by official decree, puts the army under control of Gen. Guardia, present secretary of state and war. Gen. Huertas' resignation was accepted by President Amador as an indispensable measure to maintain order and avoid any possible influences which might perhaps conflict with the civil authorities.

The reported coup d'etate of Gen. Huertas was not against the president, but the trouble really occurred between him and some of his officers.

SECRETARY SHAW MAKES A CALL UPON BANKS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Secretary Shaw has announced a call upon national banks holding government deposits to the amount of 25 per cent of their holdings, 10 per cent to be paid on or before January 15 next, and 15 per cent on or before March 15 next. This, the secretary estimates, will bring into the treasury $25,000,000.

DECLINE TO BOOK STEEL ORDERS FOR NEXT YEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The American Steel and Wire Company of the United States Steel Corporation is declining to book orders into 1905. Consumers, evidently looking for higher prices, are trying to provide for their needs for the next quarter at ruling quotations.

HANNA GUARD KEPT INTACT

Republican National Organization to Be Permanently Active.

BENEFIT APPARENT

DOVER TO HAVE CHARGE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 16, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.

When the presidential campaign opens in 1908 the Republican national organization will be found intact and ready for business. The organization is to be maintained during the four years that intervene and headquarters will be kept open continuously. The experience of the campaign just closed has demonstrated the wisdom of this course.

Until Senator Hanna's day this organization through the national committee was dropped every four years, to be picked up, pieced together and reorganized when another presidential election should require. Nominally he let it fall in 1897 after President McKinley's inauguration and again in the spring of 1901. Headquarters were closed, the clerks scattered. Perry Heath, the secretary on the last occasion, went on with other business. Actually Senator Hanna kept in repair and working order the elaborate organization that had twice nominated and elected President McKinley. Here or in Cleveland his office was ever-active national committee headquarters. Always he had a force of clerks looking after its business alone.

Hanna's Great Work Appreciated.

The result was that this year everything was in running order, ready to the hand of Chairman Cortelyou. Until now this fact has not been appreciated, even by those best informed. It simplified things for Mr. Cortelyou. This chairman, inexperienced in politics, might not have been able to create an organization but he was organizer enough to run it, already created.

Senator Hanna was the means of keeping this organization effective while he lived. Elmer Dover seems to have been selected to keep it in working order for the next four years. Chairman Cortelyou will go back in the cabinet, and so will be unable to retain his chairmanship. Treasurer Bliss will soon retire. Consequently it is understood that Elmer Dover will accept no federal appointment that would preclude his continuing as national committee secretary. This would prevent his appointment as first assistant postmaster general, for instance.

Before President McKinley's day the National Republican organization in the interim between campaigns had federal office holders for its framework. Thus Harrison was able to renominate himself, although unpopular with his party. Under McKinley the federal patronage was a part of the organization. Under this administration federal office holders will be federal office holders. The Republican organization will be that centered around the national committee. At least that is the plan.

Will Be Independent of Candidates.

The desire of old Hanna men, who helped this year to elect President Roosevelt, that this organization which was theirs, shall not go into alien hands or fall apart is partly responsible for this plan. The president has announced that he will decline another nomination, if tendered. It is considered well to have the national organization independent of the rival candidates who shall spring up, the tool of none of them, but a perfect machine to elect the successful winner of the nomination. It is a part of the plan to maintain permanent headquarters, and for this purpose there is available a large cash balance from the campaign fund. This balance has been stated to be $300,000 after all obligations have been met.

Tomorrow Mr. Dover will open headquarters for the National Republican committee in the Arlington hotel. They will be maintained there until after the inauguration. Chairman Cortelyou now intends to remain away from Washington for some time, perhaps several months. When he returns it will be to re-enter the cabinet.

Dover Could Have a Position.

Secretary Dover called at the White House today. His meeting with the president was little longer than a handshake. But in that time the president spoke of his gratitude for the work Mr. Dover has done and promised to talk longer with him on that topic. It is known that Mr. Dover could have almost any office, in reason, within the president's power to give. He is 30 years old, too young for a cabinet place, but he could undoubtedly have the place of assistant chief in one of the larger and more important departments, the post-office especially. It is not regarded as likely that he will accept such a place for the reasons already outlined, and for others. His plans are unsettled, but this much is known: He means to stay in politics, at least for the next four years. He has given up the business opportunity offered in Cleveland, the connection with the firm of M. A. Hanna & Company.

CARNEGIE HANDS STATE HIS GIFT

PENNYPACKER TALKS

NOTABLE PEOPLE AT SCHOOL

STATE COLLEGE, Nov. 18.—Two thousand people assembled here today to witness the Pennsylvania day exercises and the dedication of the new $150,000 Carnegie library. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab, Gov. Pennypacker and state officials, Maj.-Gen. Charles Miller and several score of state senators and representatives. The principal speakers were Gov. Pennypacker, Mr. Schwab and Mr. Carnegie.

The Pennsylvania exercises were held this morning in the new auditorium presented by Mr. and Mrs. Schwab. The building was crowded. Dr. Atherton presided and the exercises opened with an address by State Librarian Thomas L. Montgomery, on "Pennsylvania Libraries in Their Relation to Education." Deputy Attorney General Fred W. Fleitz made an address on "Pennsylvania," after which the college choir sang "Come, Brothers, Raise the Song," a State college melody. Dr. Atherton then introduced Gov. Pennypacker. In his address the governor said:

"Every century has its own ideals. No age is like the past. We live in a time of materialism. We like to have things in the concrete. The contemplations of Plato and Socrates have been to a very large extent forgotten and the thought of men is given to the rush of the locomotive across the broad prairies, to the construction of factories, where at one end is put in the naked ore and at the other end comes out completed steel work, wire fences and all the appliances of machinery. This characterizes not only what you see about you everywhere, but it has affected and will continue to affect our colleges and schools.

Manual Training Favored.

"Now, when a young man goes to the university he has an ambition to be a full man. (Applause.) And in our colleges, while we have not neglected the languages, while we have not neglected culture, there is an effort everywhere to introduce manual training, to teach the eye and the hand, in connection with the mind."

In closing, the governor stated that he was surprised at the magnitude of State college. He knew it to have been liberally provided for in the past, but he promised just as liberal treatment in the future.

The next and last speaker of the morning was Charles M. Schwab. Mr. Schwab said in part:

"Pennsylvania is great by reason of her industrial achievements. The boys of Pennsylvania State college are the men of the future upon whom devolves the duty of maintaining Pennsylvania supremacy. (Applause). I want to say to you as having had experience, to me there is no greater pleasure than in the conceiving of a machine or a project or a process and the building of the same—the carrying out of the same. As our good old friend Captain Jones expressed it: 'No music so sweet in the world as the whirr of the mechanical wheels.' You will find no greater pleasure, dear young friends, than in this, even though you live to possess as great fortunes as Mr. Carnegie's. The best minds in the world, directed in one single channel, will never accomplish very much, but when rubbed up against a great many people, those bright minds take the best thoughts from all and the best results are thus attained.

To Develop by Contact.

"I hope that this hall will be the central meeting place of this great student body where an interchange of ideas will result in the ultimate development of all. Even the geniuses will be improved by contact with their less favored brethren. There is one thing I wish to impress upon you young men, and that is that a graduate of a great institution of this kind is in no higher plane socially than the boy who has received his education in the practical university of the world—the workshop. (Applause.) You boys have the advantage of the boy who has been in the university of the workshop, but your social status is the same, and if you will use the same application, the same assiduity, you are bound to eclipse him and bound to succeed."

At the close of the exercises luncheon was served for 800 invited guests in the armory. Promptly at 2 o'clock the Carnegie library was crowded to witness the formal transfer of that institution to the college. Andrew Carnegie made the presentation address. The speaker said:

"It is 20 years since I was here and I feel like Rip Van Winkle after he had slept 20 years (Laughter) after coming and seeing what we have seen today, which has impressed Mrs. Carnegie and myself deeply. This is a great evolution. This farmer's high school, I find, has 19 courses, embracing all subjects of human knowledge.

Development Surprises Carnegie.

"Twenty years ago I found 170 students here. Today these are between 700 and 800, and the story is 'still they come.' The evolution which education has undergone in that time is very striking. The monastic and cathedral schools of the middle ages have passed away. Metaphysics and logic over which the world fought have been relegated to the rear. Let me pay a tribute to the ancient classics. They were the medium through which our knowledge of literature was obtained. Now I want to say how proud I am standing here today to hear that the State college of Pennsylvania is one of the pioneers in the reform of education. Your president tells us that the English course is unusually complete and thorough, and that this may be taken as indicating the character of the education of this institution. He says: 'We teach American literature first.'

'I want to speak my feelings on this occasion. Old memories have been stirred. If my foot be not upon my native heath at this moment, yet I stand upon the first soil where with my parents I found a home in this republic. If Scotland be my motherland then I tell you that Pennsylvania is my wifeland by marriage. (Applause.) It was an early marriage. I was only 11, but I tell you gentlemen, I am not at all concerned about the question of divorce. I never mean to be divorced from Pennsylvania, and I never mean to let Pennsylvania divorce herself from me.

"It remains for me to perform the ceremony of handing over this library to you, Gov. Beaver, as president of the board of trustees, and I do this in the earnest hope—nay, confident belief, that year after year it must be of greater and greater usefulness to the students of this university, with the hope that in communing with teachers of mankind, you may not only become educated men but that there may be here implanted in you the fruitful harvest of high ideals from which, gentlemen, we expect you to press upward to the truest of all wisdom, the best, and what is the test of the best, that one may render precious service to his fellows, to his state, and to his country. Gen. Beaver, I hand you this key. Take it, sir, from one who loves Pennsylvania, who loves State college, who lives the people of the United States, who would serve them all well.'

Gen. Beaver, president of the board of trustees, received the key from Mr. Carnegie, and in turn presented it to Dr. Atherton to hold in trust for the college. Before adjourning an appropriately inscribed memorial of thanks was presented Mr. Carnegie by the board of trustees, while the student body, through T. J. Saunders, presented Mrs. Carnegie with a handsome loving cup. The day's exercises closed with a battalion drill reviewed by Maj.-Gen. Charles Miller, followed by a sham battle.

THE REV. DR. H. C. BEACOM DROPS DEAD NEAR HOME

Prominent Member of Pittsburgh Methodist Episcopal Conference. Father of James S. Beacom.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 18.—The Rev. Dr. H. C. Beacom, a prominent member of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, dropped dead near his home in Bolivar this morning from heart trouble.

He was born in Westmoreland county 78 years ago. His early education was secured at the township schools in his native county. He taught school for several terms and was admitted to the ministry in 1860. For 44 years he had held pastorates in Western Pennsylvania, including the West End church, Pittsburgh; First church of Johnstown; Washington, Blairsville, Scottdale, Arch Street church, Allegheny, and Bolivar. He was presiding elder of the Blairsville district for many years. On December 2, 1850, he married Mary A., daughter of James and Margaret Spear, of Pittsburgh. FIVE MILLIONS AND HALF.

That Is Sum on Which Owners of Philadelphia Hotel Are Assessed for Taxes.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The Bellevue-Stratford hotel has been assessed at $5,500,000, the largest valuation placed on a single taxable building in Philadelphia. That an appeal will be taken against this assessment to the board of revision of taxes is admitted by the assessors.

An assessment of $5,500,000 means annual taxes of $82,500, which, added to the water rents charged against the building, would, if the assessment stands, yield the city over $100,000 annually.

BOCKSTOCE WINS BY ELEVEN VOTES

He Is Elected Common Councilman for the Twenty-Second Ward Over F. P. Booth.

PAYROLL WAS TURNED LOOSE

Dr. J. O. Bockstoce was yesterday elected common councilman for the Twenty-second ward by a majority of 11 over Franklin P. Booth, the Republican nominee. There were 1,047 votes polled.

Dr. Bockstoce was the candidate of the Citizens party, but his name appeared on the ballot under the appelation "Independent party." His election was assured by turning the payroll into the ward. In the Fourth district, the friends of Booth claim that there was fraud. They say their workers were assaulted and 10 illegal votes were cast, the ballots being put in after the hour for the closing of the polls. Booth was asked by his supporters in the district to make a contest, but he says he will not try to have the alleged irregularities aired in the courts, as the proceedings would take at least a year. He accepts defeat, feeling satisfied that he and his friends made a good fight against mighty odds. The vote by districts as given out by Booth is as follows:

District.	Booth.	Bockstoce.
First	60	74
Second	96	58
Third	70	149
Fourth	69	48
Fifth	92	65
Sixth	144	101
Seventh	83	37
Totals	518	529

Full Vote Was Not Out.

The vote of yesterday was 507 less than the poll at the regular election on November 8. The city administration was afraid to have the people vote for a councilman then, knowing that a full vote would be got out and defeat would be certain. Yesterday the Citizens' leaders sent over 50 policemen into the ward to intimidate the electors. There was so much indignation about the appearance of uniformed policemen in the Sixth district, the home of Bockstoce and of Booth, that Bockstoce telephoned headquarters to have the officers removed. Booth carried the district by 48 votes. The precinct is also the home of Robert Ostermaier, Delinquent Tax Collector Mattern was a worker for Bockstoce in the Sixth district.

The police were personally directed by Superintendent "Buck" Wallace. The The entire detective force was also sent into the ward. Superintendent Nicewaner of the bureau of highways and sewers, was busy looking after the "white wings." Murray Livingstone, chief of the ordinance officers, was there directing the work of Holmes Miller, who was showing his badge as an ordinance officer. Samuel Adler, the milk inspector, was another who labored in the cause of "reform." To name them all would be to give a list of the payroll.

Orphans Helped Wightman.

The payroll was assisted by a number of the Orphans, who think that Director Bigelow will not control Bockstoce. They were of great assistance to J. Smiley Wightman in the Third district. In the First John F. Steel had a stiff fight for control, with Thomas G. McClure leading the Booth workers. The majority was held down to 14 votes. In the Second district Hitchcock, who deserted the Republicans after he secured a job in the city treasury, lost his precinct. In the Fourth, where a Booth worker was assaulted and arrested, Policeman McGinnity was on guard for the "reformers."

North Homestead is the Fifth district of the ward. Booth had expected to split even in this precinct. Director Bigelow learned that by building a board walk which had long been promised, the district could be carried. The boardwalk was built, the work being started last Sunday.

The great fight put up by Booth was a surprise to the Citizens. They thought they would have an easy victory and were astounded when the returns came in.

Jacob Soffel, Samuel Miller and other voters of the Thirty-second ward filed application in court asking for the exclusive right to the name of "Orphans party" at all general and special elections in that ward. Leonard Trautman, Thomas F. Ashford, Jr., and others from the same ward, petitioned for exclusive use of the name "United Voters' league," and James Graham, Theodore T. Wolf and others for right to the name "Union party." Each set forth that they expect to nominate ward and city officers to be voted for at the February election.

SHE APPROVED THE JURY

for the prosecution resulted in the placing of many detectives by both sides in the courtroom this afternoon. Nan Patterson, also fearing that friends of "Caesar" Young will attempt to carry out their threats of vengeance, was closely guarded. When she entered the courtroom this afternoon she was surrounded by bailiffs.

The most depressing news for Miss Patterson today was that in court she must meet face to face the widow of the man she is accused of slaying. Her father had taken this information to her cell in the Tombs. The prosecution has not yet announced just when Mrs. Young will be called to the stand.

Assistant District Attorney Rand, who has charge of the prosecution of Nan Patterson, announced tonight that he had received a message which stated that Hyman Stern, the pawnbroker, by whose evidence the prosecution intended to show important facts, is ill with appendicitis. Mr. Rand would not say whether or not a delay in the trial might result.

Stern testified before the grand jury that he identified the weapon which was found in Young's pocket as one he had sold the day before the shooting to a man who was accompanied by a woman. He also testified that the woman was not Nan Patterson.

FEDERAL JURYMEN WERE HARD FOR HENRY TO GET

Deputy United States Marshal Concludes Times Are Prosperous and Idlers Scarce.

That times are still prosperous and the number of unemployed is small, was demonstrated yesterday and the day before to Deputy United States Marshal William Henry, in a search for talesmen for the United States district court. The usual 52 names had been drawn from the jury wheel and the wheel sealed according to custom. The wheel was filled many years ago and when the names of the 52 jurors drawn were read, it was found that some were dead and others had moved out of the district, and even out of the state, so that only 32 responded to their names.

The 32 were soon put on juries, and when a damage suit against a railroad was brought up the jury panel was found to be short so Deputy Marshal Henry was sent out to bring in talesmen. Under the law he could have taken men from their business or from their work, but not wishing to inflict hardship on any one, he sought the unemployed. They were hard to find. Henry found men who, he knew, if they had no work would have been glad to earn $3 a day as a juryman, but they were bustling along the street and hardly had time enough to stop and tell him they could not serve on the jury. After a hard day's work Henry found a half dozen men and sent them to the United States marshal's office.

Yesterday more men were needed, and he started out again in the morning. By dint of hard work he secured 11 talesmen, but before court adjourned some were sorry they had consented. One man had been willing to serve on Friday and Saturday, but he had to go to Punxsutawney on Monday. Hardly had he taken his seat in the court room when he was called and accepted on a jury which in all probability will sit until next Wednesday. The trip to Punxsutawney will not come off on the day scheduled.

The deputy marshal stepped up to a friend in front of Newell's hotel, but the friend was too busy. He slyly indicated a man to whom he was talking, and Henry asked him to serve. The stranger said he lived in Waynesburg and expected to go home that afternoon, but the pay, $3 a day, painted alluringly by Henry, persuaded him to go along. Then Henry went to the Hotel Antler and found two of the guests who had nothing to do and were willing to get jury experience. He may have to go out again today.

CONGRESSMAN H. K. PORTER CALLS UPON PRESIDENT

Rumor Is Revived That the Pittsburgher Is to Receive a Diplomatic Appointment.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Representative H. K. Porter of Pittsburgh last evening called on President Roosevelt. Today he left for Philadelphia. Mr. Porter's visit here has renewed reports he is to receive an appointment in the diplomatic service, but no definite information is obtainable on the subject.

At present there are no vacancies in important posts although there is talk of changes likely to take place in the near future. It is said that Ambassador Choate contemplates resigning and there is also a report that Ambassador Clayton will be supplanted at Mexico.

Pennsylvania has three ministers and one ambassador in the diplomatic service. They are John G. A. Leishman in Turkey, Lloyd Griscom in Japan, Lawrence Townsend in Belgium and Charlemagne Tower in Germany.

PLUCKY ENGLISH GIRL WON HEARTY CHEERS

Horse Show Crowd Went Wild When Miss Ross Finally Drew Prizes, After Bad Luck.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Horse show week of 1904, which will come to an end tomorrow night, bids fair to break all records for attendance at the Madison Square garden. The crowds up to tonight had exceeded those which had been deemed phenomenal in 1902 and 1903.

Miss Ella S. Ross, the plucky English woman whose repeated efforts in face of defeat have endeared her to the regular attendance at the horse show, succeeded in winning her first blue ribbon with a pair of spirited blacks, entered in a class where appointments did not count. Later in the day her four-in-hand won a second prize under similar circumstances.

When the decision in favor of Miss Ross was posted the crowd went wild with noisy enthusiasm.

The most picturesque feature of the afternoon was the class in which members of various hunt clubs appeared, in the distinctive uniforms of the hunt. The Cameron Run Hunt Club, of Alexandria, Va., Richmond County Hunt, Westchester Hunt and Essex hunt of Orange, N. J., competed. The Virginia huntsmen easily carried off the blue ribbon.

Aberdeen of Pittsford, and Bressay of Pittsford, owned by E. F. Hawley, were awarded the blue and red ribbons respectively. Monte Carlo, the tiniest pony of all, driven by Miss Natalie Watt, the daughter of T. L. Watt, received third prize.

Mrs. John Gerkens' pony Doncaster model, won the blue ribbon in the class for ponies other than Shetlands.

SHOCK'S STRANGE EFFECT.

Aged Father of Lydia Harkness Walks for the First Time in 15 Years at His Home.

Shocked by the sudden death of Lydia Harkness of North Homestead, who burst a blood vessel while running to catch a train last Wednesday, it is feared, will cause the death of her aged father, W. F. Harkness, who was yesterday removed to Mercy hospital in a critical condition.

Mr. Harkness had been an invalid for over 15 years, during which time he had not been able to walk. While members of the family were on the first floor of their home during the morning, they were shocked to see Mr. Harkness walking down the stairs from the second floor alone. On being returned to his room he collapsed and a physician advised that he be sent to the hospital.

Funeral services were held over the remains of Miss Harkness at her late home yesterday afternoon.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Few are entirely free from it.

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." Mrs. J. H. Jones, Parker City, Ind.

MUKDEN HEARS CANNONS' ROAR

CHINESE MOVE ON RAILWAY

MUKDEN, Nov. 18.—On the morning of November 17, after a long silence, the distant roar of cannon was heard, but where the fighting occurred is not yet known. There is no assurance yet that it means a general fight is beginning. No excitement is yet displayed among Russian officers or Chinese here.

The Red Cross is making extensive preparations for the transportation of wounded from fields of battle. Two kinds of horse litters are being experimented with, one for the seriously wounded, the other for the slightly wounded. In the event of the trial being successful, which seems likely, all field hospitals will be equipped with these litters, reducing the number of bearers which, under the old system, has necessarily subtracted from the fighting line by almost half.

HARBIN, Nov. 18.—The report is circulated here tonight that 3,000 Chinese bandits under Japanese officers are moving toward the railway communications below Tie pass.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 19.—Emperor Nicholas will leave for the Caucasus December 3 to bid farewell to the Circassian cavalry.

The mobilization of reservists from the city of St. Petersburg, it is expected, will be announced next week. While the reservists of the province in which St. Petersburg is included were called to the colors some time ago, the actual mobilization at the Russian capital has been postponed as long as possible.

It is reported, on apparently good authority, that the meeting of the Zemstvos, which was scheduled for today, has been postponed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 18.—Gen. Stoessel has telegraphed to Emperor Nicholas that Port Arthur can hold out several months.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Daily Mail's St. Petersburg correspondent says that Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel's report expresses a firm conviction that he will be able to hold out at Port Arthur until the Baltic squadron arrives in March, on the condition that he is supplied with munitions and stores. The government, the correspondent adds, has instructed its agents abroad to supply Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel's requirements at any cost.

TOKYO, Nov. 18.—A telegram from Moji reports the destruction of another Russian arsenal and magazine at Port Arthur.

At 11 o'clock his physicians expressed surprise at the rally, stating that it was the most remarkable in their experience.

Oxygen is being administered, and it is believed that Col. Breckinridge will survive the night.

Break Causes Water Famine.

This morning the water supply of the Pennsylvania Water Company, which furnishes a large district east of this city, will be shut off till Tuesday. The reservoirs ran dry at noon yesterday, owing to the piston rod of engine No. 2 breaking at Wildwood. Repairs were started immediately and will be rushed to completion.

Politics Causes Fatal Quarrel.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Nov. 18.—Noah Bailey, a prosperous merchant, was killed at Paniaw this evening by Roscoe Henderson, who fled to the hills. He is being pursued by a party of his victim's friends. A political discussion caused the difference.

WANTED—EQUIVALENT FOR ENGLISH WORD "BLAME"

It Is This Which Proves Stickler in Final Ratification of Anglo-Russian Convention.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Great Britain has not yet accepted the modifications of the North sea convention proposed by Russia. The draft of the convention, which has now had quite an interesting career, is in London, and proposals and counter-proposals on the subject of the wording continue to be exchanged between the British foreign office and the Russian embassy.

A satisfactory conclusion of these exchanges is anticipated very soon, though it probably will be next week before the convention is actually signed. One of the chief difficulties is to find an equivalent in French for the English word "blame," that is regarded as satisfactory to both parties.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 18.—The statement yesterday that a supplementary article in the Anglo-Russian North sea convention will cover up any similar misunderstandings in the future was incorrect. The second French text, prepared by Russia, is a compromise between the original English and the original French text, proposed by Russia.

It is probable Russia will send a fifth officer, detached from the transport Kamtchatka, to Paris. He will testify to seeing torpedo boats 30 miles behind the battleship division, and to wireless messages which were exchanged with the flagship.

President George Moore of the chamber of commerce said last evening:

"We will fight annexation to the end."

THE WOUNDED BIRD FLUTTERS.

And While Fluttering, It Keenly Shows Its Great Distress.

CAN'T STAND "HOT SHOT."

If you ever saw a bird that was wounded while flying you've observed it flutter in pain and distress.

The action is unmistakable.

The bird shows plainly that it has suffered injury at the hands of someone.

The same is true in the business world. If certain firms feel the sting of a competitor's more progressive methods they "raise the dickens" in the newspapers in the hope that the public will believe them.

Just now some of our competitors in the piano business are complaining in their advertisements simply because we are sacrificing prices in order to dispose of the stock we had in our Charleroi store, which we have discontinued.

But you can't wonder that certain old firms are angry. We are cutting the life out of prices and those old firms with old methods and old-fashioned profits are aware that we are getting business away from them.

Read the following items and judge for yourself whether we are entitled to your consideration or not.

We are not the oldest house in the world. On the contrary, we are comparatively young, but we try to keep abreast of the times, and realize that we can make friends most rapidly by selling everything at a very small margin of profit.

Slightly Used Pianos.

One $550 Kimball upright, Colonial case, inlaid with white holly, in perfect order, a gem, only $260.

One full size $500 Steinway upright, in dark rosewood case, without a scratch, $250.

One $400 Kranich & Bach upright. Still in fine order, with excellent tone, $175.

One $400 Chickering upright. That great old Boston make, $140.

One $350 Hardman upright. Fine for children to learn on, $110.

One $375 Emerson upright. Good as new, except case is scratched, $190.

Payments of from $5 to $10 per month will buy them.

You also want to see the following BRAND NEW pianos, made by the famous Kimball Co., which are selling at $210, by far the lowest price ever placed on instruments of this character.

They are full size, in Golden Oak, Mahogany and French Walnut finish cases, seven and one-third octaves, and all modern improvements.

And if you are looking for something particularly fine, examine the lot of $400 pianos which are being sold at $268. They are extra large sizes, regular cabinet grands in various woods and are practically new and every one is a bargain worth coming miles to secure.

Don't put off selecting your piano, for this sale will end in a few days.

SELECT MEMBERS TO BREAK QUORUM

Opponents of Meter Bills at Caucus Decide to Be Absent Monday.

BIGELOW IS NOT CONFIDENT

"We have decided to break a quorum of select council next Monday," said a member of the opposition faction of that body yesterday. "We have decided to show Director Bigelow that he is not the whole thing."

This statement was made by one of those most active in fighting Director Bigelow's meter ordinances.

According to him, the pretense will not be again made that the plumbers have not their data ready to present to councils. President Wightman will be left to carry out his threat of drumming up a quorum by arresting absent members.

"Wightman is only making a big bluff. He has never had the nerve to carry out any of his threats or promises," said this councilman. "There was a recent instance of this when he referred the two ordinances prohibiting crowding in street cars to the public safety committee and after the council meeting they were changed to the corporations committee. He declared he would have them put back in the public safety committee immediately, but he not only failed to do this, but stayed away from the safety committee when it met to consider these ordinances. That is the way he carries out his threats."

Meeting Called Over Telephone.

The call for the special meeting of select council was sent out yesterday, the city clerk receiving his instructions from Wightman over the telephone, instead of receiving a written notice to call the meeting, as required by law.

Director Bigelow is not very sanguine of winning on Monday in select council. He was asked yesterday if the meter bills would pass and replied:

"If we can get enough votes."

"Will you have a quorum?"

"I think so."

"Do you know the reason of opposition to the meter bills? Do you know what they want?"

"I know what they want, but I will not tell."

"What about the statement select councilmen make that you have a man installed at a local plant to familiarize himself with the meter manufactured there, so that the specifications can be drawn to exclude any other meter?"

Story Bigelow Heard.

"That is a different story from the one I heard," replied Director Bigelow. "The one that I heard was that the specifications were to be drawn so that only the meter sold by Murry A. Verner's brother-in-law could be bought. The fact is, that the court has decided that the specifications of any article on which there is a patent cannot be drawn to exclude any other article on which there is a patent. The only thing we can do is to specify the conditions which the meters must meet."

The decision to break up a quorum was reached at a caucus of the opposition members of select council held on Thursday afternoon. There is no attempt to conceal the fact that the opposition to the meter bills is organized. Select Councilman P. A. Manion, who, at previous meetings, has been with the opposition, was again a caller at Director Bigelow's office yesterday.

BIGELOW NAMES HIS CHAIRMAN

Councilman Helmold Will Direct Work on Appropriations for Next Year.

SUB-COMMITTEE HAS NO CLERK

Director Bigelow announced yesterday that Common Councilman C. W. Helmold of the Twentieth ward would be chairman of the sub-committee on appropriations of councils, which is to prepare the appropriations for all the departments of the city government for the next year. Mr. Helmold also stated yesterday the sub-committee would meet next Tuesday or Wednesday to organize. Nothing, however, will be done by the sub-committee with finances until the latter part of December, when the estimates from the heads of departments are received by councils and transmitted to the sub-committee, through the finance committee.

The mystery connected with the early appointment of the sub-committee was explained yesterday. Usually the sub-committee is not appointed until near the beginning of the year, when it is ready to begin work on the appropriations, but the sub-committee this time was appointed at the first regular meeting of the finance committee in November. It developed yesterday Councilman Helmold was the cause of this.

Forced Bigelow's Hand.

About a week or more previous to the appointment he told Chairman Bole of the finance committee that he wanted to be a member of the sub-committee on appropriations. Chairman Bole communicated this information to Director Bigelow, who was expected to name the members of the sub-committee, and Bigelow determined to have the sub-committee appointed at once, for fear if he delayed it to the usual time, Helmold in the meantime might have a committee of his own appointed.

Therefore, the subsequent meeting of the finance committee, Helmold was told that Bigelow had agreed to placing him on the committee and he was requested to make the motion to appoint the sub-committee. This he did, and Chairman Bole immediately read the names of the members whom Director Bigelow had selected. They were: Select Councilman P. J. Barry and C. J. Gallagher, and Common Councilmen C. W. Helmold, John Masiowski and Joseph Zeuger.

Helmold made the motion, and, according to custom and parliamentary usage, he should have been named first on the sub-committee, thereby making him chairman of it. Instead, Chairman Bole read Barry's name first, and it was supposed until yesterday that Barry would be chairman. Bigelow, however, set Helmold's doubts at rest by announcing that he would direct the task of making up the appropriations.

Bigelow Dominates Committee.

It is expected that the work of the sub-committee will be considerably easier this time than formerly, because the last two years the finance committee was antagonistic to the administration. In making up the appropriations for 1905 the finance committee and the administration will be heartily in accord, as the members of the finance committee, when appointed last April, are known to have been selected by Director Bigelow. Director Bigelow's word is supposed to be law with the sub-committee and there is no doubt about the finance committee approving the work of the sub-committee.

In the last finance committee meeting there was a lively wrangle on the appropriations and a battle in councils. The Orphans then had control of the finance committee but when the appropriation bills were brought into councils they were considerably changed, the Republicans and Citizens uniting against the Orphans on many points.

Controller Will Not Act.

This year there will be no fight until the appropriations reach councils and then the Republican batteries will be opened on them, first in common council and then in select.

Although an ordinance of councils provides that the controller shall act as the clerk of the finance committee it is known that neither the controller nor his assistant will have this work to do this time, the first time in many years that their services have been dispensed with. Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow has told Chairman Helmold that he will give all advice that may be applied for, but that he cannot attend meetings of the sub-committee and stay up late at nights.

"Running for Office."

The four Cohans' greatest success, "Running for Office," which has contributed more to the fame of the famous family of farceurs than any other production is at the Duquesne theater next week. The play has a logical plot which smacks of Cohan humor and is frequently interrupted by Cohan music. The company numbers 60 people and was selected by George M. Cohan and Sam Harris.

WILSON PROMPT IN HIS ANSWERS

Allegheny Police Captain Remains Unruffled Under Haymaker's Examination.

ALICE SCOTT HELD FOR COURT

With Capt. James Wilson on the stand yesterday at Alderman Toole's office Attorneys Haymaker and Marron failed to elicit from him any information of a startling character. Wilson was summoned to testify in the case of Alice Scott, against whom charges of selling liquor without a license and with keeping a disorderly house were made by County Detective Robinson.

Mr. Haymaker questioned Wilson and received answers promptly. Wilson showed no hesitation and was in no way confused. He said he had known Alice Scott for more than a year and had been in her house twice. He did not know what kind of a house she had nor had never heard what repute it had among those living in the vicinity. If there was liquor sold there Wilson did not know of it, nor had he any idea of the character of Alice Scott's apartments in the "Flats."

Mr. Haymaker tried to show that Wilson was at the "Flats" on last Saturday morning about 1 o'clock, but Wilson did not remember if he was there or not.

Amos A. Dachroth testified that he had often been in Miss Scott's house, had bought beer from Alice Scott and that the latter had helped him drink it. He frequently saw men and women in the place and knew it had the reputation of being a disorderly house. On this information the defendant was held in $1,000 bail for court. Attorney R. P. Marshall went on her bond.

Because other business prevented them devoting any time to the graft investigation Attorneys Marron and Haymaker made no other informations yesterday, although they assert they are ready to proceed against other persons in Allegheny.

Sue Williams of 62 West Robinson street, Allegheny, charged by Superintendent Campbell before Magistrate Abernathy with selling liquor on Sunday and keeping a disorderly house, yesterday afternoon gave bail in $1,000 in each case for a hearing at 2 p. m. Tuesday next. Alice Hill of Ann street went on her bond.

In Memory of Their Dead.

Annual memorial services will be held by Maj. A. M. Harper Post 181, G. A. R., of Braddock this evening in the post headquarters, Braznell hall, Burton street. Members of Maj. A. M. Harper Circle 4, Ladies of the G. A. R., will assist at the services. The Rev. J. N. Miller of Hazelwood, chaplain of the post, will deliver the memorial address. Capt. William R. Jones camp, Sons of Veterans, will attend in a body. Members who died during the year are John Escher, Michael Toohill, Jonathan Frantz, William H. Morgan, Peter Christman, Louis R. Jones, G. W. Connors, J. S. Baumgartner, Martin Henderson and Joseph Steele.

Buffalo Art Director Appointed.

H. S. Stevenson of the Stevenson Art school received word from Charles M. Kurtz, assistant chief of the department of art of the St. Louis fair, yesterday stating that the latter had been appointed director of the Buffalo Fine Arts academy of Buffalo, N. Y. A marble structure has just been constructed for this institution at a cost of $350,000. Mr. Kurtz is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college and has been prominently identified with art exhibits throughout the country.

BRIBERY IN THE LEGISLATURE

"The Massachusetts Legislature Is Bought and Sold as Are Sausages and Fish at the Market and Wharves."

This is one of the many startling statements made by Thomas W. Lawson in the December installment of "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine for December, just published. Mr. Lawson tells of the wholesale buying and selling of senators and representatives in the great commonwealth of Massachusetts, which culminated in the sudden and mysterious disappearance of a Boston lawyer and his secretary.

As back numbers of Everybody's Magazine are out of print, the previous chapters of Mr. Lawson's "Frenzied Finance"—contained in the numbers from July to November inclusive—are republished in a pamphlet, at 25 cents a copy. This pamphlet will be sent free to any new subscriber to Everybody's Magazine who requests it and who sends one dollar for a year's subscription beginning with the December number. Address The Ridgway-Thayer Company, Union Square, New York City.

GREAT RETAINING WALL TO BE BUILT ALONG BANK

Terminal Warehouse Company Let Contract for Concrete Structure.

A retaining wall 400 feet long, 37 feet high and 17 feet thick at the base, tapering to three feet at the top, will be built of concrete along the south side of the Monongahela river at the site of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse and Transfer Company. The contract has been let to the Dravo Construction Company and work will be commenced on it at once, both day and night forces being put to work.

The claim is made that a similar wall construction should be built by the city all around the water front to prevent the annual loss of thousands of dollars worth of property by floods. The warehouse people will set traps in the sewers which can be closed in flood time and so prevent back water getting into the warehouses. They will set their intake pipes in the wall and will have it so constructed that no flood will affect their property. More than 5,000 cubic yards of concrete will be used in the wall, which will be set on 600 piles.

In addition to building the wall the Dravo company will do 20,000 yards of dredging in the river to make a boat landing for the warehouses.

Workmen at the warehouses celebrated the laying of the first base plate the other day, which signals the commencement of the steel structural work. Several hundred gathered around the pier on which the plate was laid and placed newspapers, cards and other mementos under the plate, cheering when it was set in position and bolted to the templet rods. The steel work will be commenced this week or the first part of next by the Oscar Daniels company of Chicago.

A Unique Window Display.

In one of the windows of the May Drug Company's store is a display that attracts the attention of every passer-by. It is the figure of an attractive woman and is designed to advertise DeMiracle, the new preparation for removing superfluous hair, a discovery about which so much has been favorably written recently in the medical journals and fashion magazines. This figure is a marvel of mechanical skill. Gracefully seated in her boudoir before the dressing table, a mirror in one hand, DeMiracle in the other, she raises the mirror and with the other hand applies DeMiracle. The miracle is performed—the unsightly growth of hair upon the upper lip disappears. During the process the figure makes 18 distinct movements, all with an ease that is almost human. The display will remain in the window for a few days longer.

Canadian Club's Officers.

The Canadian club will meet next Saturday evening in the Hotel Henry. These are the temporary officers: President, Stephen Y. Baldwin; vice president, Wallace M. Reid; secretary-treasurer, William M. Thompson, 525 Florence avenue, Avalon; executive committee, William H. Roblin, J. Harry Bowen, W. F. A. Robertson and J. H. Brammer.

Hard Times.

Hard Times come knocking at the door of the improvident man who did not foresee the necessity of systematically putting aside a portion of his earnings at Four per cent compound interest with the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, Smithfield st. and Fourth ave., where his money would be secured by $14,000,000.00 assets and earn Four per cent interest.

A Beautiful Christmas Present.

One of These Colored Photogravures.

A handsomer collection of photogravures cannot be seen. We say it without hesitancy. They are exquisite bits of color work after the various schools of art. It seems to us that any lover of pictures—even the connoisseur—could find something to interest him in such a collection. The greater part of them are shown unframed, leaving the matter of frame to the taste of the purchaser. Some of the most pleasing subjects are marked at $12.00 instead of $15.00.

We have colored Photogravures in handsome frames of gilt and in oak and gold, for such special prices as $20.00, $25.00 and $30.00.

An Unequaled $5.00 Collection.

This group is made up of genuine etchings, pastels and watercolors, as well as a fine selection of carbon photographs. All are appropriately framed, and many of them are worth much higher prices—there being $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00 pictures among them.

Saturday, November 19, 1904.

Although agreed upon the general principle, differences still remain between Russia and Great Britain in regard to the North sea convention. One of the difficulties is linguistic, it having as yet been impossible to find a French equivalent for the English word "blame" satisfactory to both parties. The Russian draft of the convention is in French, which is the language of Russian diplomacy. The case recalls a similar difficulty which occurred during Gen. Jackson's administration. He was inclined to take offense at the use of the verb "demander" in a note from the French government until it was explained to him that it had only the force of polite request in English.

Good news was heralded at the banquet of the Oakland board of trade. The Greater Pittsburgh and the greater Western University each had an inning full of promise. The time is certainly ripe for the consolidation of this populous community under one efficient administration, and it cannot be doubted that a vast majority of the whole people would gladly vote for the project. It is almost equally certain that a majority of each portion would vote the same way. Neither is there any good reason why the greater university should not soon become an established fact. It is already an educational institution of character and standing, offering a nucleus for one of the most forceful in the land. There is no better field for its effort than the Greater Pittsburgh, with its splendid achievements and its brighter prospects.

President Amador of Panama desires to dissolve his army and to create in its stead a police force. His plans are meeting furious opposition on the part of officers of the army, whose chief qualifications for military command are their ability to support grandiose dignity on the slightest conceivable foundation. If President Amador shall accomplish his purpose, he will have taken a long step toward relieving the new republic of the curse of revolution which has characterized his Central and South American neighbors. Those countries are all wofully deficient in police administration, while their military establishments afford the opportunity for revolutionary plots, by their combination of vicious idleness with the means of making war. President Amador is to be congratulated on getting so near to the heart of the trouble.

Whatever basis there may be in the report that President Roosevelt intends to appoint former Gov. Black attorney general when Mr. Moody retires to enter private practice, it is probable that the New York man is to be resurrected politically. He was hailed as a second Lincoln when he was put up for governor of the Empire state, but his administration was in some ways a disappointment. Mr. Black has practiced law in obscurity for several years, but of late there has been a disposition to bring him before the public. It had been supposed that Gov. Odell intended to have him go to the United States senate in place of Mr. Depew, but the attorney generalship suggestion looks as though this plan might miscarry. Mr. Black certainly rendered President Roosevelt a service by his great speech at the Chicago convention.

The society of naval architects which met in New York city this week had plenty of material for discussion on the naval lessons learned from the present war, but the members did not agree on the efficiency of the battleship in the modern combat. Much stress was laid on the value of the small vessel owing to the ease with which it is maneuvered and the deadly possibilities of the torpedo. On the other hand, the defenders of the battleship showed how the large vessel might recover from torpedo attacks although temporarily disabled. One of the most interesting suggestions was made by a representative of the Union iron works, in San Francisco, who would like to see a central passage through a warship, which might simplify the "nervous system," which is now too complicated for one commander to effectively manage. It is rather early to comment on the naval results of the war with Japan, for the reports of action on the water have been too meager. Besides, naval attaches have not been allowed to accompany the fleet, so we must wait for the technical details until the reports of Japanese officers are available.

A Payroll Victory.

The special election in the Twenty-second ward resulted in the success of the Citizens party candidate by a minute majority. Undoubtedly the good personal repute of the candidate contributed to this result, but in the main it was due to the fact that the payroll brigade concentrated its efforts in his behalf. If the election had been held at the same time as the presidential election, when there was a full vote, there can be no doubt that the Republican candidate would have won, but held at a time when the general public was tired of politics, the Citizens machine was strong enough to control the result by the margin of a few votes.

It is to be hoped that Dr. Bockstoce will behave in councils in a way that will justify his claims of independence, but the pledges of councilmen elected by the Citizens party have so often been belied by their conduct that there is little ground for encouragement in the case of any of them. There has never been a party which has so systematically betrayed the confidence of the people as the Citizens party of Pittsburgh. It has perpetuated and intensified every abuse which it promised to correct.

A Two-Ton Steer.

A recent news item reported the sale by W. R. McGill of Crawford county to a Lebanon county man of a steer weighing more than 3,000 pounds. The weight of this bovine prodigy is so far above the ordinary as to excite wonderment and speculation on the probability of breeding more of the same kind. Mr. McGill has finally given, through the Crawford Journal, a history of the prodigious animal. It is, he says, the result of an experiment in feeding, which grew out of a controversy among farmer friends.

Ensilage has proven the best feed for dairy cattle, improving the quantity and quality of milk. Mr. McGill's experiment indicates it to be equally valuable in feeding for beef. The huge animal he has just sold was fed from the silo during the winter and on pasture during the summer, with a very little straw or dry hay. Mr. McGill says he would consume 70 or 80 pounds of ensilage during a night. He regrets that he has not the opportunity to "feed him off," as he believes that full feed for one year would have brought his weight above 4,000 pounds.

In these days of high prices for beef and predicted increasing scarcity of cattle this news is of interest to the city dweller as well as to the man who cultivates the soil. If beef cattle in general can be made to average more than half the weight of this monster the Chicago stock yards will not need more than half the number now received. Pittsburgh stock yards receive the choicest cattle, and a steer weighing one ton is sure of a royal welcome even there. The two-ton variety is unknown yet. But agriculture has advanced greatly during the past 100 years with the aid of science and ingenuity. It took years of argument to effect a general use of ensilage for dairy feeding, but it may not take long to convince beef breeders of its value. The two-ton steer may be common in a decade or two as an assurance of an ample food meat supply for the future.

State Armories.

It is said a bill has been prepared authorizing the state of Pennsylvania to provide armories for its National Guard. This is probably the best way out of what must be regarded as a shameful situation. The Pennsylvania military organization has been pronounced by competent experts the most effective among the militia establishments of the states. It has never failed to draw encomiums from the regular army officers who have reviewed or inspected it. Yet it is a fact that no other such organization is more illy provided for in the matter of quarters and drill halls.

Up to the present cities and localities have been looked to for the accommodation of their citizen soldiery. With few exceptions they have ignored the trust. Pittsburgh and Allegheny have been shamefully neglectful of the interests of their military commands. Few other communities have done any better. This naturally throws the obligation back upon the state, and there is a disposition shown by it to show itself grateful, in contrast to the ingratitude of its several cities and counties. The National Guard ought to be comfortably housed by the public for whose protection it is designed, and it ought not to be compelled to use its own resources to secure that result.

Mr. Bryan's Advice.

Direction of the affairs of the Democratic party, an undertaking in which he has accomplished remarkable results, is not sufficient to satisfy Mr. Bryan's activities and he now proposes to extend similar supervision over Republican party affairs. In this week's issue of his paper he uses over a page in telling President Roosevelt how to conduct his administration. Mr. Bryan has the advantage of possessing one simple rule of action which he applies on all occasions. He is always right, and those who differ from him are necessarily in the wrong. This infallibilist presumption stands out in his advice to President Roosevelt. Here is a beautiful instance of it:

"He (President Roosevelt) is too much of a student of public affairs not to be aware of the growing issue between democracy on the one side and plutocracy on the other—between the masses, interested in good government and in equal opportunity, and the privileged classes, fattening upon governmental favoritism. Being aware of the struggle he must take his stand upon one side or the other. He must contribute to the triumph that must ultimately come to the people or stand as the champion of organized wealth."

Only the historic remark of the juryman who complained that the obstinacy of 11 men on the jury prevented a verdict can rank with the classification which Mr. Bryan makes as regards the vote in the presidential election. To one not gifted with his peculiar vision the unprecedented popular plurality of over 2,000,000 would be regarded as setting forth beyond cavil or dispute how the masses stood as regards the issues of the presidential election. The Democratic party stood for class interests, some of which were as unpatriotic as they were stupid, and that was the matter with it on election day. Mr. Bryan himself is associated in the public mind with the narrowest sort of class interest—that of the silver miners.

The old doctrine of the divine right of kings never equalled in absolutism Mr. Bryan's claim of authority to decide what the people and parties and administrations shall think and do. It is a waste of time for the Democratic papers to be discussing the future of their party. That is a matter which Mr. Bryan has taken into his own care, and he knows it all. Meanwhile the Republican party is getting along very well on his opposition and prefers that to his offers of assistance in deciding the policy of a Republican administration. It is just because the Republican party is aware of its duty as a champion of the people, and performs it, that it has won its victories. Perhaps if the Democratic party would consult public opinion more and Mr. Bryan's opinion less it would get along better.

The Business Situation.

Sentiment is more cheerful in industrial and commercial circles today than it has been for more than a year. Business has not only turned the corner, but it is now moving forward in a broad way that appears clear and safe. The only criticism that might be passed upon the situation is that the initial pace is so rapid as to foreshadow a sudden halt in the near future. This is certainly true of the stock market, where the level of values is extremely high as compared with normal periods in the past. The trouble with the American people is that they have come to look upon the stock market as an infallible guide to current conditions, whereas the movement on the stock exchange is always in the direction of discounting the future. A sharp reaction in the stock market, which according to all the rules of speculation is overdue, would no doubt be looked upon by the general business public as an indication that some unfavorable development had occurred in financial and commercial affairs. Such would not be the case, but it would have its effect upon business sentiment.

The demand for iron, steel, coal and coke has outrun supply, and prices for a number of products were advanced during the week. The textile trade is also looking much better and advancing prices here is likely to follow increased buying power on the part of the public. While there has been a falling off in the movement of grain to primary markets, shipments of other kinds of merchandise have increased. The effect is larger gross earnings reported by railroads, and these gains are well distributed all over the country. The increased volume of traffic has given employment to a larger number of men, and it is estimated that the railroads entering New York city alone have increased their working forces to the extent of 20,000 men during the past six weeks. This is but one example of trade revival. The larger buying power which will immediately follow the employment of additional men cannot fail to stimulate the retail mercantile trade.

Money market conditions continue very satisfactory. The contrast as compared with the corresponding period a year ago is strikingly presented in the official reports of the national banks made during the past week. The deposits of the national banks of Pittsburgh now foot up $145,241,265, which exceeds by over $2,000,000 the largest previous total. The loans and discounts of the same institutions also show an increase of more than $4,000,000, and the business passing through the Pittsburgh clearing house has been showing an increase of $2,000,000 a day over the same time last year. The New York money market, besides sustaining the enormous requirements of the stock market and the increasing demands of domestic trade, this week floated one-half of the $60,000,000 Japanese war loan, and at the same time furnished a considerable amount of gold for export to Cuba and France. There was probably never a time when under similar circumstances the surface of the money market remained so placid.

There is considerable discussion among the military critics as to whether or not the Japanese commanders have made the most of their opportunities. They have been victorious in every battle and while they have not destroyed Gen. Kuropatkin's army that is no sign that they lack genius or energy. There is good reason to believe the Japanese have never had any great numerical superiority in Manchuria, Russia reports to the contrary notwithstanding. The Russian plan at every stage, except Liao Yang was to seduce the Japanese into a rapid pursuit, for which ambushes were laid. The Russian is wily, when he is nothing else.

Prince Hilkoff, Russian director of railways, has sent 300 engineers into Siberia to double-track the Siberian railroad. That apparently measures the determination of Russia to defeat Japan and retain its hold on Manchuria. But it takes a long time to build railroads and the original Siberian line represents a tremendous outlay of money.

Removal of Alaska officials by the president after investigation, together with the charges against them, seems to sustain the remark of a character in Rex Beach's recent story, "The Thaw at Silsco's." It was: "I would have justice if God was in Alaska, but he cannot get there until spring and the season is only three months long."

A new 6-inch gun is reported capable of throwing a 100-pound projectile through six inches of steel at a distance of 30 miles. What a gun that would be for the peace-at-no-price Russians! Almost equal to a long-distance telephone.

President Diaz recommends the gold standard for Mexico. Apparently the intense satisfaction with the silver standard found in that country by Mr. Bryan must have been imported by the Nebraska gentleman himself.

A London paper predicts that President Roosevelt will dig the Panama canal in four years. That is what comes of having a reputation for strenuousness.

Bryan's advice to the president is not important. The country has rejected Mr. Bryan's ideas of government three times by increasing majorities.

The goose bone weather prophet insists it will be a hard winter. Present indications are it will be hard—on the prophets.

Unless Kuropatkin has his lines well protected he had better begin making plans for another masterly retreat.

It is just a chance that Gov. Douglas of Massachusetts is taking his remarkable success too seriously.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—In sentencing John B. Church, 63 years old, no home, to 30 days in the Tombs prison for shoplifting, Justice Wyatt, in the court of special sessions today, said:

"This court has decided from now on to penalize shoplifters the same as ordinary thieves. The once high social standing of this particular prisoner cannot save him in this case. If you, his counsel, think him insane you should appeal to a city magistrate and have his sanity inquired into. This court is going to send to prison every person convicted of stealing, especially from the big department stores."

Church was arrested November 12, and arraigned the next day before Magistrate Barlow, in the Jefferson market court, where he made the following plea:

"I am not guilty, but I am absent-minded at times and I want examination."

Magistrate Barlow recognized in the prisoner a boyhood associate. Church was prosecuted today for taking a pair of eye glasses from a Broadway department store. The property was found in his possession when arrested. R. Lawrence, counsel for the prisoner, made a plea on the ground that his client was a kleptomaniac and therefore not responsible for his act.

Department stores in this borough and in Brooklyn have lost through shoplifters between $400,000 and $500,000 yearly. The managers have formed an alliance which will endeavor to have all who take to this kind of crime punished more severely than has been the custom in the past.

Some Things Not on the Bill.

It's hard to please everybody. The hotel St. Regis had hardly got itself well advertised as the place where you could pay more for a given thing than was possible elsewhere in New York when objectors began to appear. First, the management objected to this excess of notoriety. Now the neighbors are objecting. To be more precise, Henry S. Redmond, banker, has entered the first formal protest against the hotel. Mr. Redmond was among those who protested against permitting the hotel to be built. His wishes were disregarded then, and the institution has been conducted since in a manner that fails to meet with his approval. So Mr. Redmond has appealed to the police, and today promises to lay the matter before Commissioner McAdoo himself. Mr. Redmond's complaints fall under two heads. First, cabs of the patrons of the establishment block the street so that the banker's coachman has difficulty in reaching his door; secondly, the "barker" for the hotel disturbs Mr. Redmond's slumbers by calling cab numbers at an hour when that gentleman prefers to be in bed. Naturally, the management of the St. Regis is becomingly subdued under these strictures, and avers it has no intention of disturbing the neighbors.

Pursued by Hard Luck.

Pursued by bad luck and illness since they were rescued from the Scandinavian liner Norge, which carried nearly 1,000 persons down into the sea, the family of Samuel Wexler received their hardest blow today, when their 6-year-old son, Morris, while playing with a toy balloon on the rear fire escape of his home, fell through an opening and crashed two stories to the hard cement pavement of the courtyard below, sustaining a fractured skull and internal injuries, from which the surgeons fear he will never recover. Two years ago Samuel Wexler came to America. He prospered and last spring sent to Germany for his wife and six children. The children range in age from 2 to 10 years. The family took passage on the ill-fated Norge. When the big boat went down Mrs. Wexler did not lose her head, but gathering her children about her, marshaled them on board a lifeboat. For five days the lifeboat drifted about, the occupants suffering untold privations from hunger and thirst. When the family finally got to New York on another steamer the experience which they had undergone made them ill, and one after another the members were taken sick. Since they arrived in America the doctor has been a daily visitor.

Expensive Automobile Burned.

Fire in a garage at No. 170 East Seventy-fifth street caused by the explosion of a five-gallon can of gasolene destroyed a large Mercedes 60-horse power automobile, valued at $27,000 and caused about $500 damage to the building. The firemen had trouble in extinguishing the flames, which threatened to spread to the garage owned by H. McK. Twombly, in which five automobiles are stored. These were taken out and not damaged. The garage was in charge of Trilan Lopez, a Cuban agent. He lived above the first floor and went into the basement to fix the furnace fire for the night. Near the furnace was the can of gasolene which exploded. The burning oil flew around the basement and Lopez attempted to get out the three automobiles stored there. When the firemen arrived the flames had spread to the first floor. Next to the burning building is the garage of Mr. Twombly. The firemen broke into the building and ran the automobiles into the street. Two automobiles in the burning building were gotten out in safety, but the Mercedes was destroyed. It was to be shipped to Cuba today.

Prisoner Can Have Her Cat.

The inquest into the death of Paton Noble, the clerk of the Long Island City police court, was put over a week today at the request of Mrs. Josephine Noble's counsel. In the meantime Mrs. Noble, held as a prisoner in the Queens county jail to await the action of the coroner's jury, will have her pet cat to lighten her cares and shorten the interminable hours. The cat is black and has an affectionate disposition. Ever since the shooting of the court clerk and the losing of the Noble home, the house cat was left to wander around the neighborhood. Each day it grew thinner and thinner and at night it kept up a caterwauling that drove the residents in the immediate neighborhood to shoes and other handy missiles. Unable to endure the pitifulness of nine slow-wasting feline lives, Benjamin Burnell, the owner of the house and the tenant on the ground floor, called on District Attorney Gregg. He in turn consulted the sheriff of the county and together they called on Mrs. Noble. They told her she might have the cat as a companion if she wished. She was delighted. The district attorney and the sheriff then appointed a cat-catcher and the animal was brought into jail.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Because the women will wear corsets
Some foolish men appear to think
That they themselves should not be chided
For taking freely to strong drink
Or forming other foolish habits.
"We'll gladly change our course," they say,
"As soon as you can get the women
To throw their harmful stays away."

If women should some day, in striving
For greater modesty or grace,
Decide to bind their feet together
And crawl around from place to place
Some men would straightway get to thinking
That they were called upon to do
Some other thing that would be certain
To make them look more foolish, too.
—Sam Kiser.

That's as true as anything.

Men and women are forever aping the manners, dress and style of each other.

There may be none in this town, but they do say there are men in other towns who wear corsets, long stockings and use the rabbit foot in making up their complexions.

And who can doubt it, seeing that there are about as many fool men in the world as fool women?

It is charged that women appropriate the style and cut of men's garments.

Can you blame them if it be true, as it probably is, that only those are well dressed who feel comfortably dressed?

No doubt you are ready to stand for the truth of this statement, particularly if you have ever worn fashionable clothes for fashion sake and not for comfort.

* * * * *

You may not know it, but it is a fact all the same, that man stole his trousers from woman and that not so very long ago.

In the palmy days of Palestine men wore loose, flowing robes or skirts, while women wore bifurcated garments, or what are now known as divided skirts.

In Turkey and in Mohammedan countries women still wear trousers or bifurcated garments. While there isn't much of a fit about them, there is about as much as there is about any of the garments worn by men and women in these countries.

In these as in many other countries the dress of children is by far the neatest and closest in fit. Nature dressed it and supervised its construction, therefore it ought to fit well. Nature, as you know, rarely botches a job, but leaves the botching to those who think they can improve on her handiwork.

As botchers men and women are hard to beat, as you will surely conclude if you study the dress and manners of an uppish sort of a bunch in church, at social gatherings or in the street.

Dressed up people are rarely what they seem to be, nor what they feel themselves to be, and all because their cut of clothes does not agree with their cut of jib.

A donkey clothed in a bear's skin is neither a good bear nor a good donkey. In fact, it isn't a good anything, not any old thing.

* * * * *

The sinfulness of women's dress is something appalling, and yet it may be worse before it is better, for the dear creature is inclined to go the full limit when she gets started.

And when she has reached the limit and turns in to reform who knows but she may claim that trousers are hers by right of priority, and take them for her own, leaving man to resume his old-time petticoats or invent a new garment more to his taste.

Woman's dress, as worn at present, is unscientific, unsanitary and ungainly. Is it any wonder, therefore, that she is more or less a physical degenerate? Indeed, the only wonder is that she has held her own so well. How much longer she can hold out time alone will tell.

Delicate and sensitive as she is to heat and cold, she constantly exposes herself more than man would dare unless he meant to invite premature decay and death.

In summer she strips herself next to the buff without regard to changes of temperature, while her brother man is clothed three or four times as heavily without complaining any more than she does. Besides, if he should go into society in his shirt sleeves he would be invited to go elsewhere.

* * * * *

In winter she flops to the other extreme and swathes herself in furs and heavy clothes to which she sticks with characteristic persistence regardless of prevailing conditions.

She sits in church and theater wrapt in her furs without regard to the temperature. Should her companion man act in like manner she would scold him good, and tell him that he would get his death of cold, and that his overcoat would be of no use when he got out into the cold.

And then she goes through all sorts of weather, wet and dry, snow and frost, with her feet clad in thin-soled kid shoes, and no protection to her ankles save dainty stockings and wide, flapping skirts.

What would she say of the man who would thus expose himself to the elements and thus invite colds, consumption and various disorders that would prematurely age him if they did not shorten his span of life by several years?

But with upper extremities overclad and lower underclad she manages to get along in some sort of fashion, and in better fashion than might be expected. And yet she suffers for her follies. She ages prematurely, spends much time nursing herself and in complaining about not feeling well, and not looking as well as she would like, and wondering why she is not as healthy and hearty as she ought to be.

* * * * *

That woman's dress is most unsanitary there are none to deny. Even she is compelled to admit the fact, but when she does she is almost certain to flash up the argument that man will not allow her to dispense with street-sweeping skirts, following with a hot blast at man for spitting on the streets and in cars, smoking, chewing and doing a lot of other things that she thinks isn't a bit nice, and winding up with the conclusion that he is a real mean thing not to do something with the nasty germs so she would not be compelled to sweep them up and carry them home.

Well, what are you going to do with her?

She is a woman, therefore she will have her way, more or less.

Man, you know, is a creature of circumstances, but woman is mainly a creature of fashion.

Therefore, to change a woman you must change the fashion of life in the matter of dress, social customs and the habits to which she has long been accustomed.

Her tendency to go contrary to nature is shown by the prevailing style of combing her hair up instead of down. This bit of contrariness alone is the source of much discomfort and inconvenience, but you can hardly make her believe that it causes headache, neuralgia and other nervous phenomena.

And while she is perfectly willing to take medicine, and lots of it, in the hope of relieving her sufferings, she persistently refuses to so dress, and to so live that she need not suffer.

Tariff Revision

Extra Session Under Discussion.

Regarding the current talk about tariff revision the Washington correspondent of the New York Sun gives what purports to be the views of President Roosevelt and claims that an extra session of congress is liable to be called for the purpose. The dispatch says:

"Although there has been abundant reason for the understanding that President Roosevelt would not commit himself with reference to the move for tariff revision until he had had the opportunity of full and free intercourse with all the congress leaders, it was not possible until Thursday to give an authoritative corroboration of the president's views to that effect. As Mr. Roosevelt will not be able to take counsel with most of his legislative advisers until they begin to gather here next month for the regular session of congress, no mention of the subject of tariff revision will be made in his annual message.

"At first the administration was inclined to regard the efforts of the revisionists as premature, but within the past day or two their propoganda has gained sufficient headway to make it evident that the uncompromising "stand pattera" will have to make a great show of argument and numerical force to stop the trend toward the calling of an extra session.

"The statement is made without qualification, therefore, that if Mr. Roosevelt reaches the conclusion, after consultation with the Republican leaders of the senate and the house, that a revision of the Dingley tariff schedules would be a wise thing, the Fifty-ninth congress will be convened in extra session shortly after March 4, 1905.

"A good many Republicans have maintained ever since their overwhelming defeat in 1890 that the result would have been different if the McKinley bill had been passed some months before, in order that the people might understand the benefits to be derived from the measure. As confirming this view attention is called to what happened some years later. In 1897 it was decided to put a new tariff law on the statute books without waiting for the regular session. The law became fully operative before the congressional campaign next following, and the Republicans retained their control of the house of representatives."

SOME REPUBLICAN OPINIONS.

Schedules Need Revision.

New York Tribune: The Dingley act was passed nearly eight years ago. Since then a wonderful development in American manufactures and commerce has occurred. No wise and patriotic man can wish to arrest that development, but he must realize that in some respects the country has outgrown the law, and that in some other respects, as experience has demonstrated, the law was faulty from the beginning. The iron and steel schedules have certainly been outgrown and need revision. Some tin plate manufacturers concede that they do not need any longer the measure of protection which they receive. The leather duties, which were intended to protect cattle raisers, seem by a miscalculation to have resulted in hampering the manufacture for export of heavy leather goods made from thick South American hides and in making those goods unnecessarily dear at home. Then more and more people realize the shortsightedness and folly of taxes on books and art. The supposed beneficiaries of these taxes almost unanimously demand their repeal. Our duty to the Philippines and our self-interest also prompt the opening of our doors to their trade. Their prosperity is the solution of our insular problem.

Changes by Friends.

Washington Star: That tariff revision of a conservative character and modified strictly on protection lines will follow the verdict of last Tuesday seems open to little doubt. The issue entered into the campaign, and the people spoke on it as on other issues. In no section was the term "stand pat" accepted as declaring in favor of an indefinite lease of life for the Dingley law as it now stands. The law everywhere was very properly praised by the Republicans for what it had done, but it was as generally admitted that tariff schedules were not sacred, and that seven years of successful application of those in existence had suggested changes here and there. It was as generally urged, too, that these changes should be made by the friends of the law. The friends of the law carried the day. They will continue in full possession of the government after the 4th of March. The president is a protectionist, and Mr. Fairbanks is rooted in the faith. The Republicans will have almost a two-thirds majority in the senate, every man good for a protection vote. Mr. Cannon, a stout protectionist, will look down from the chair on a majority of 100 in the house, easily able under experienced direction to handle the whole tariff question. Never since the government was formed has protection been better guaranteed a squarer deal than now.

Should Equal Cost of Production.

Chicago Record-Herald: "Protection which guards and develops our industries is a cardinal policy of the Republican party. The measure of protection should always, at least, equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. We insist upon the maintenance of the principles of protection and therefore the rates of duty should be readjusted only when conditions have so changed that the public interest demands their alteration, but this work cannot safely be committed to any other hands than those of the Republican party." This utterance is from the national platform of the Republican party. It is a cautious utterance, with only an implied recognition of the desirability of revision. But it was not the duty of the convention to work out a revision scheme, and in their comment and conversation Republican leaders have expressed their belief unreservedly that conditions have so changed since the Dingley law was enacted that the public interest demands an alteration in the rates of duty. These leaders, moreover, were not of the class of ardent revisionists like Gov. Cummins. They were of the organization that controlled the convention. But with all their conservatism they realize, first, that there is actually need of a readjustment for justice's sake, and, second, that the revision movement within the party is a serious, well-considered one that must be reckoned with.

No Immediate Revision Necessary.

Chicago Inter-Ocean: All sensible men know and admit that the Dingley tariff schedules are not sacred. In due time it will be in order doubtless to consider the revision of them in cases that show inequity or oppression. However, the current suggestion, said to emanate from Washington, that it is necessary to take up tariff revision right after the inauguration—that it is necessary to tear up the industrial earth and rend the business heavens by calling an extra session of congress expressly to revise the tariff—is unworthy of sensible Americans and especially sensible Republicans.

Must Ease the Pressure.

Chicago Tribune: The function of the Republican party during the next four years will be to ease the social pressure of radicalism by letting off the steam gradually. If the safety valve is held down too tight some day a big outburst will blow Bryan, Hearst, Watson, Debs, etc., into office. The way to avoid this is to do something about the tariff and to do something about the trusts. Another reason for doing something about the tariff and for doing something about the trusts is that it is right that something should be done. Men like Bryan, Hearst, Watson and Debs are not the men to do it. Roosevelt is the man to do it in a statesmanlike way. If he can get congress to assist him he will let off enough steam to leave the country with plenty of power in the boiler and not too much.

MANY ROBBERIES BLAMED ON GANG

Nine Informations Already Made Against the Hunter-Gardner Suspects.

SOAP SAMPLES USED FOR BLIND

The Hunter-Gardner gang, members of which were recently arrested on the South Side by Special Officers Merit and McAfee, will have many charges of house breaking and larceny to answer to when arraigned for trial. Stolen jewelry found in their possession has already been identified by nine persons who made information against them. The names of the prosecutors and their losses follow:

M. P. Garrigan, 126 Orchard street	$ 400
Mrs. P. C. Ansel, 6736 Kelly street	800
D. A. Ross, 304 Juounda street	300
Mrs. Louis M. Speer, Crafton	200
J. L. Haring, Crafton	150
Bertha Stanley, 65 West Robinson street, Allegheny	500
D. A. Adams, 1327 Singer place	400
David Stonecypher, Crafton	200
G. B. Lewis, Crafton	500
Total	$2,950

Only a part of the stolen property was recovered. During September and October over 50 robberies were committed in Allegheny county, and as the above residences were broken into by this gang it is supposed they committed the other burglaries. Since these men were arrested the officers of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and boroughs and townships outside of these cities have received few complaints of robberies.

The gang is composed of Frank Gardner, Joseph Gardner, Earl Parker, William Hunter and William Miller. All five men have been connected with the above robberies on the informations. Their ages range from 17 to 29. The Gardner brothers were raised in New York city, but Hunter, Parker and Miller came from Allegheny.

The men entered houses while the occupants were at supper. They had another scheme of going to a house with a sample of soap, representing themselves as agents. If they got no response from the front door bell they took it for granted no one was at home and broke into the place from the rear.

Bernard Kelley, aged 15, and John Larkin, aged 11, were arrested yesterday afternoon by the Homestead police. They were discovered in the rear room of the store of Mrs. Mary Mansfield in Eighth avenue, Homestead, and were locked in the place until the police arrived. A meerschaum pipe was found in their possession.

SOUTH AS DEAR AS NORTH TO PRESIDENT

Col. Mosby Makes Public a Letter Written Before Election by Mr. Roosevelt.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Col. John S. Mosby received, a few months ago, a letter from Judge Houlihac of Birmingham, Ala., commenting on the attitude of the southern people toward the president personally. Col. Mosby sent the letter to Oyster Bay, as he thought the sentiments expressed in it by a confederate veteran would be gratifying to the president. He received a reply which he did not publish during the campaign, as he felt that the president's motive in writing the letter would be misconstrued. The letter is as follows:

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 10, 1904.

(Personal)

My Dear Col. Mosby—That is a fine letter of Houlihac's, and I appreciate it. I have always been saddened rather than angered by the attacks upon me in the south. I am half a southerner myself; and I can say with all possible sincerity that the interests of the south are exactly as dear to me as the interests of the north.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Col. Jno. S. Mosby, Department of Justice, Washington, D. C.

AGAINST CONSOLIDATION.

A. F. of L. Not in Favor of Boiler Makers Affiliating With Iron Workers.

The movement on foot to consolidate the Brotherhood of Boiler Makers and Iron Ship Builders with the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers is having opposition from the American Federation of Labor. It was given out yesterday that Thomas H. Flynn, national organizer of the A. F. of L., is using his influence to prevent the consolidation.

The boiler makers are affiliated with the A. F. of L., while the structural iron workers are not. In forming the consolidation the A. F. of L. would loose a large organization, and for that reason will do all in its power to keep the boiler makers in a separate body. The boiler makers' helpers will apply for a charter in the Iron Workers' union regardless of the wishes of the A. F. of L., as the helpers are not affiliated with the Gompers organization.

MT. WASHINGTON TUNNEL FINISHED

Cars Will Be Operated Through It to Charleroi on November 27.

FAST TIME WILL BE MADE

The Mt. Washington tunnel has been completed and on Sunday, November 27, trolley cars will be operated through it to Pittsburgh's southern suburbs. The new route will reduce the running time between Fifth avenue and West Liberty to 10 minutes. Cars will make the trip to Charleroi on the Monongahela river in 29 minutes less time than afforded by the present schedule and will give the villages of Mt. Lebanon and Castle Shannon faster service than the East End districts. The opening of the new line will result in the rapid development of a wide territory now practically unsettled.

The first trip through the tunnel will be made on the private car, "Pittsburgh," by a few officials of the Pittsburgh Railways Company and a party of newspaper men. The car will leave the downtown district and will establish a record in a run over the new division. After passing the tunnel the car will strike the main line of the Charleroi road at the old Bell House and will run through Mt. Lebanon, Castle Shannon, Library, Finleyville, Monongahela, Charleroi and Allenport. It will be the longest trolley trip every made in Allegheny or Washington counties.

It was expected that the trial trip would be made today, but there is yet much to do in the tunnel and a large force of men is engaged in clearing the debris left by track-layers and the masons. It was decided to postpone the formal opening until the road would be in complete running order. Consequently cars will be operated on the entire line beginning on that date.

Residents of the Hilltop district have hopes that the opening of the tunnel route will result in lessening the crowds which patronize the Knoxville, Beltzhoover and Arlington avenue lines. Residents of Montooth, Beltzhoover and West Liberty will patronize the new route, and if the same number of cars is maintained on the Hilltop divisions, cars will be less crowded. President J. D. Callery of the railways company yesterday promised the latest style cars and a schedule on the Charleroi line which would tend to improve the accommodations throughout the entire district.

Fire In Temporary Synagogue.

Fire last night damaged the hall in the Kuhn building at 6202 Penn avenue, used by the congregation of Ben Israel for holding services. Exercises were held in the place a short time before the fire broke out. It is believed to have originated by a lace curtain blowing against a candle which had been left burning. PE-RU-NA WORKED WONDERS

For an Adjutant and Chief of Staff in the Spanish War.

Herman A. Finke Says: "Pe-ru-na Made Me Feel Like a New Man."

Herman A. Finke, Adjutant and Chief of Staff, Spanish war, St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"I heartily recommend Peruna to any man who, through the exposure incident to camp life, may have lost or impaired his health. I have suffered severely with kidney trouble brought on in Cuba in the trenches. Nothing I ever did helped me until I took Peruna. This simply worked wonders for me. In a short time I felt like a new man. My pain gone, my appetite increased, my sleep restful and in every way I felt improved. For kidney troubles or any disarranged pelvic organs, I say get Peruna, and it will cure you when nothing else will."—Herman A. Finke.

War Correspondent Recommends Pe-ru-na.

MR. F. B. RICHARDS, 602 "E" St., N. W., Washington, D. C., War Correspondent, writes:

"Exactly six years ago I was ordered to Cuba as staff correspondent of the New York Sun. I was in charge of a Sun dispatch boat through the Spanish-American war. The effect of the tropical climate and the nervous strain showed plainly on my return to the states.

"Lassitude, depression to the verge of melancholia, and incessant kidney trouble made me practically an invalid. This undesirable condition continued, despite the best of treatment.

"Finally, a brother newspaper man, who like myself had served in the war, induced me to give a faithful trial to Peruna. I did so.

"In a short time the lassitude left me, my kidneys resumed a healthy condition, and a complete cure was effected. I cannot too strongly recommend Peruna to those suffering with kidney trouble.

"Today I am able to work as hard as at any time in my life, and the examiner for a leading life insurance company pronounced me an 'A' risk."—F. B. Richards.

Doctors Unable To Help Her—Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Mr. George Forrester, 2747 Mascher St., Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"We have great faith in Peruna. My wife's condition was such that she thought she would die, as the doctors could not help her dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach. Now she can eat anything.

"We keep Peruna in the house all the time, but it is only once in a while that she needs to use it. I was subject to liver and kidney trouble, which resulted in rheumatic pains, but I have not had a pain since I took Peruna, and very little liver trouble, as Peruna keeps the digestive organs in good working order, and that is the main thing."—George Forrester.

Catarrh of the Kidneys a Common Disease.

Catarrh of the kidneys is very common indeed. It is a pity this fact is not better known to the physicians as well as to the people.

People have kidney disease. They take some diuretic, hoping to get better. They never once think of catarrh.

Kidney disease and catarrh are seldom associated in the minds of the people, and alas, it is not very often associated in the minds of the physicians. Too few physicians recognize the catarrh of the kidneys.

Peruna is not simply a palliative to relieve some of the most distressing symptoms, it is a permanent and radical cure.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, president of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

CHRONIC CONSTIPATION.

Possibly no disease is more general than chronic constipation. The cure is simple, though somewhat tedious. Chronic constipation is usually acquired in youth, either through neglect or through false ideas of modesty. Parents and teachers are often very relax in instructing young people as to the necessities of hygiene. Once chronic constipation is acquired it can only be cured by great patience upon the part of the sufferer. It is only by weeks and possibly months of effort at a certain hour daily, that the bowels can be trained to perform regularly those functions for which nature intended them. Powerful cathartics only bring temporary relief and are often harmful, as they tend to irritate the delicate membranes of the bowels. Honest effort and patience is what is required, with the aid, about twice a week, of a gentle aperient or laxative. Any physician can recommend a proper aperient, though the most popular is Red Raven Tea. This excellent article comes in the form of a bubbling mineral water and is unlike any medicine you ever tried. It is just like taking a draught of a delicious spring but every drop of it is impregnated with health. If you suffer with chronic constipation make your own regular daily effort, and on say Sunday and Wednesday mornings, before breakfast, take a glass of Red Raven. The price is 15 cents a bottle and is, therefore, within reach of all. If you follow our advice and presevere, you will surely be cured.

MANY ARE HURT IN ACCIDENTS

HOMEVILLE MAN'S HARD LUCK

Four persons were hurt in a head-on collision between a repair car and car 208 on the Homestead and McKeesport division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company near the West Braddock bridge at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, due to the fog. There were 18 passengers on the McKeesport car and all were badly shocked and bruised in being thrown from the seats:

THE INJURED:

JACOB HOCKER, aged 30, of Braddock; hurt about head, left leg and internally; taken to Mercy hospital in critical condition.

ALBERT LONG, aged 27, motorman of McKeesport car; head and legs injured; taken to his home in Eleventh street, Braddock.

CLARK FREDERICK of Grant avenue, Duquesne; head and right arm injured; taken home.

When the cars came together Hocker was caught between the controller and the cab and Motorman Long was injured by jumping. Dr. C. C. Huff, the traction company surgeon at Homestead, attended the injured. Both cars were badly damaged.

Henry Pennessey of Homeville, fell down a flight of steps and received a compound fracture of the left leg. Two months ago he was badly burned in an explosion at the Homestead mills. About four weeks ago, while convalescing, he was accidentally shot in the leg by a young woman who was practicing target shooting.

Margaret Gibson, aged 14, while holding a lead pencil near her ear in the Homeville public school, had her arm accidentally struck and the point of the pencil penetrated the ear drum and broke off.

Thomas Myford, aged 22, had his right thumb torn off at the second joint by cog wheels in open hearth department No. 1 at the Homestead works. He was removed to his home in Homeville.

James Burkholder, aged 70, of Versailles township, fell from a wagon and had his head cut and shoulder dislocated. His skull may be fractured.

Mrs. John Gilchrist, aged 60, of Versailles township, had her arm fractured and was cut and bruised in being knocked down by a heavy iron lid which she attempted to lift from the top of a cistern.

HEARD CASH CLINK.

Saleswoman's Sharp Ears Enabled Her to Thwart Purpose of Burglars Who Had Entered Store.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Discovered in a daring attempt to rob the cash register in the salesrooms of the Singer Sewing Machine Company this afternoon, two men were pursued through throngs of shoppers in the adjacent streets, one of them escaping.

Miss Margaret Black and Mrs. Anna McKinley, saleswomen, were alone in the store when the strangers entered. One examined the machines attentively while the other sneaked to the rear of the store. The attention of the saleswomen was attracted to the second man by a slight noise as he took money from the cash box. Both women screamed and attempted to stop the men, who immediately dashed out of the store.

HUNTING TRIP ENDS FATALLY

Thomas O'Brien Instantly Killed When Gun Was Accidentally Discharged.

MAN MEETS DEATH IN FLAMES

Thomas O'Brien, aged 19, of East Carnegie, was instantly killed in a hunting accident yesterday afternoon. With four companions O'Brien had been hunting in Moon township. On the way home at 4 o'clock all sat down on a pile of railroad ties near Thornburg.

O'Brien, with a pocketknife scraped off Spanish needles which had gathered on his clothing. As he finished, David Nelson, who sat with his shotgun on his knees, asked for the knife to use in the same way. According to the account given by the boys, O'Brien extended the knife and as Nelson reached forward to grasp it his knee snapped the triggers of his gun, and both barrels were discharged, the loads entering O'Brien's neck under the chin. The boy fell from the ties dead.

His companions carried the body to the O'Brien home and then gave themselves up to Deputy Sheriff Thomas Pascal of Carnegie, who is also a justice of the peace. The boys, David Nelson, William Llewellyn and Martin Sheder of Robinson township and Russell Ehrhart of Carnegie, were placed in the lockup pending an investigation by the coroner.

Elias Robinson, aged 60, colored, who had a room on the second floor of Pickegill's stable at Allegheny avenue and Manilla alley, Allegheny, was burned to death yesterday evening shortly before 5 o'clock. A fire was discovered in the stable and an alarm turned in. The blaze was soon extinguished and Robinson's body was found by the firemen. It is supposed he was overcome by fumes from a small gas stove, from which the fire started, and was unable to get out of the building.

Mrs. George Hope of 3330 Madison avenue was found dead in bed at her home yesterday by her husband. It is thought the woman ended her life by taking chloroform. It is supposed she had been dead for several days.

Mrs. Hope's husband called at the morgue last night and said he had been drinking and that his wife had threatened to leave him. When he returned home Thursday he found the place locked, and thought his wife had gone to friends in Woods Run. Finding that she had not been there he did not return to the house until last night. He climbed through a window in the rear of the house and went to the bed room. This door was locked and he forced it and found his wife lying on the bed with a towel over her face and a bottle which had contained chloroform or ether by her side.

The body of the man found in the abandoned barn of the Eagle Transfer Company yesterday is supposed to be P. A. Griffin, formerly an employe of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Glenwood. Two employes of the railroad company called at the morgue last night and said they were positive the body was that of Griffin. The body was found by James O'Hara, who sought shelter in the barn at night and awoke in the morning to find that he had slept near the corpse.

A man believed to be J. W. Dean was instantly killed by a Charleroi car in Washington avenue, near the West Liberty schoolhouse, about 9 o'clock last night. He was in a wagon and was struck while attempting to cross the track.

Mrs. Hooton, aged 65, of 32 Sandwich street, died suddenly at her home yesterday afternoon. Her death was reported to the coroner.

VICE-PRESIDENT-ELECT MEETS PITTSBURGHERS

Charles Warren Fairbanks, vice president-elect, accompanied by his wife, spent several minutes in Pittsburgh yesterday evening. He was en route from Springfield, O., where they had been visiting the senator's mother, to New Haven where today they will witness the football game between the Yale and Harvard teams.

When they left the train at the Union station they immediately entered the dining room. Before the senator had time to be seated a number of people recognized him and were soon extending congratulations upon his recent election.

After they had taken dinner Mrs. Fairbanks went to the news stand and purchased several papers and magazines. While she was buying the periodicals the senator was again besieged with people who insisted upon shaking hands with him.

The senator stated that his health was never better. He said that the campaign was one of hard work, but he never doubted the result of the election, although the victory was greater than most people expected. He said the probabilities are he will not return west until after the next session of congress. He refused to discuss the possibility of calling an extra session of congress to revise the tariff.

STEAMER BURNS, ONE LIFE LOST

OTHER MARINE DISASTERS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Twenty-one persons were rescued from the big freight steamer Mohawk of the Central Vermont railroad's fleet, which burned to the water's edge off Hortons Point, in Long Island Sound early today. The watchman, a Swede named Larsen, is believed to have been burned to death.

All the others on board, among whom were two women, were taken off the burning vessel by the freight boat Boston of the Fall River line, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. Immediately afterward there was a heavy explosion on the abandoned freighter, which completed the destruction made by the flames.

The Mohawk was loaded with a thousand barrels of sugar and considerable oil. The fire was discovered as the vessel was passing Hortons Point on one of her regular trips from this city to New London, Conn.

NEW LONDON, CONN., Nov. 18.—Mrs. Charles H. Wilbur and Mrs. Julia Colby of this city, who were on the burned steamer Mohawk, reached here tonight. Mrs. Colby paid high tribute to the bravery of the crew of the Mohawk. She especially commended Engineer Gresham, who on learning that the water in the boilers was low, went into the engine room at the risk of his life, and filled the boilers.

GLOUCESTER, MASS., Nov. 18.—The fishing schooner Arthur D. Story arrived tonight from Georges Bank, and reported the loss of one man and the injury of two others during the gale last Monday. The crew of 14 lashed themselves to the vessel. One man was swept overboard.

ACTIVE CAMPAIGN FOR PITTSBURGH

CONVENTION HAS ADJOURNED

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
Fred L. Lee, Staff Correspondent.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Nov. 18.—To inspiring airs by the Marshall College Glee club, in which the entire assemblage joined, the tenth annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement association came to an end today at noon. It has been the most successful convention the organization has yet held. Although the number of delegates was not so large as at Parkersburg two years ago, yet the amount of work accomplished was vastly greater and the beneficial results expected from the labors of the gathering are expected to prove of vastly more importance.

During the next year an earnest campaign of education is to be carried on in Pittsburgh. Business men and manufacturers will receive visits from representatives of the association and told of the immense benefits which will accrue to Pittsburgh if a nine foot river is provided to Cairo. When the question is properly put before them, the promoters believe Pittsburgh business men will put their shoulders to the wheel and help along in the work.

One of the most important items of business of the morning was the reception of the report of the committees on miscellaneous business. The report proposed two radical measures, both of which were adopted. One was that the cities and towns along the river, as well as individuals, be advised of their rights under the river and harbor act and their co-operation be secured to preserve and establish harbor lines.

Can Protect the Rivers.

Under this act the humblest citizen may appeal to the secretary of war for a commission to fix harbor lines, beyond which no railroad company or any other corporation may dare to place an obstruction or attempt a fill. The other proposition was that a pamphlet be printed containing a digest of the river and harbor laws and that it be given gratuitous distribution along the river. This work is to be carried out immediately.

The last session of the convention was an enthusiastic one. The delegates from Cairo, who came in a special car and have been living in it at the Baltimore & Ohio station, were the first to leave. Cairo gets the convention next year and the leave taking with these visitors was a most pleasant one. Not a single delegate expressed a doubt as to his ability to get there next year, but it was proposed that everybody go to work and take a crowd to Cairo such as that comparatively unknown town has never seen before. The Cairo people left at 12:25 and an hour later the delegates from up river points were whirled away and the meeting was ended.

Col. John L. Vance, president of the association, pronounced this the most valuable gathering the organization has yet held. A vast amount of business of importance was transacted and a campaign laid out for the next year. By the time congress assembles next month a bill will be ready for presentation for the improvement of the Ohio river and it is proposed to have the government authorities proceed with the work and complete it as speedily as possible.

Want Work Commenced at Once.

The members of the association are all anxious that it shall be finished by the time the Panama canal is ready for service, which will be in about 10 years. The expense is estimated to be about $50,000,000, and it is proposed to ask congress to appropriate that sum of money so that it shall be available as required, the same as was done for the building of the Panama canal. The projectors of the plan are anxious to have the Ohio improved by the time the isthmian project is ready for use, in order that the Ohio valley may reap its share of the benefit which will result from this new route to the Pacific.

This is the first year the people at the extreme lower end of the river have expressed any particular interest in the matter, although Paducah has entertained one convention. The movement of the Cairo people means the bringing into line of the congressmen from Illinois. There are 64 congressmen directly interested in this matter and the delegates to the convention are anxious to impress them with the value this improvement is to be to their constituents. A committee from the convention, consisting of Congressman Dovener, President Vance, Secretary Ellison and Col. Anderson of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, will visit Washington and lay the matter before the rivers and harbor committee when it meets. Chairman Burton of that committee is favorable to internal improvements and now that he is in the humor of going ahead the committee is anxious to take advantage of it.

Will Improve Tributaries.

Once the Ohio is open the association proposes to push its work for the improvement of the tributaries. The Big Sandy, Kenawha and all the other big streams which empty into the Ohio, will be taken care of until the entire valley is open to navigation all the year around. The old hopeless belief that these improvements will never be accomplished in the course of at least a generation, has given away to a determination to get the work done and get it done on the present generation may enjoy the benefits.

All down along the Ohio river the people are awakening to their prospects. Here at Huntington, down at Catlettsburg, up at Point Pleasant and at Parkersburg, and in every town they are getting ready for great improvements to come with a better river. Huntington is especially waking up. The town has been held in check for many years by a contest over a land title involving almost all the property upon which it is built. The case was recently settled by a decision of the supreme court, which was adverse to the plaintiffs. Today there are over 200 houses being erected in the city and at least half of them will cost from $5,000 to $25,000. The clearing of the land titles was the greatest benefit which has ever been conferred upon the town. "Now all we want is an open river and we'll make this a manufacturing city that will not be exceeded by any except Pittsburgh," said one of the residents today. The Merchants club, a new organization which is auxiliary to the board of trade, has just completed a club house which cost, without the furnishings, $25,000.

CLAIMS GAS ENGINE CAN BE USED ON WARSHIPS

German Engineer Predicts They Will Displace Steam Engines as Well as Turbines.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—The German navy officials are giving close study to the possibilities of gas engines for propelling warships. A discussion on the subject occurred at today's session of the German Society of Naval Architects. The chief paper was read by Engineer Capitaine of Frankfort-on-Main, who predicted that gas will displace the present steam engines as well as the turbines. He says the present machine utilizes only 12 to 14 per cent of the coal's energy, whereas gas engines utilize 26 per cent. The Thornycrofts are now building a vessel to be fitted with a 600-horse power gas engine according to the German engineer's plans. The latter doubts whether the existing types of gas engines are available to above 1,000-horse power, but he says the invention solves the problem for larger sizes.

The emperor was an attentive listener.

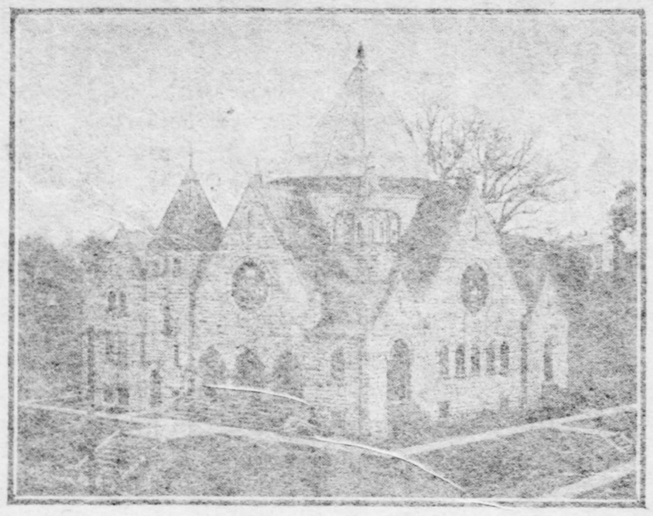
WILL DEDICATE A FINE NEW CHURCH IN LIGONIER



The new Presbyterian church at Ligonier has just been completed at a cost of $25,000, and will be dedicated tomorrow morning with a sermon by the Rev. Dr. David Gregg, president of the Western Theological seminary. The church is built of Ligonier blue rock, and embodies, besides an auditorium which seats 800, accomodations for the Sunday school, pastor's study, woman's parlor, dining room and kitchen.

This church was organized in 1817 with the Rev. George Hill as the first pastor. The Rev. Samuel Swan, came next. His successors were the Rev. A. B. Clark, '42-'51; the Rev. David Harbison, '53-'55, still living at Catasaqua, Pa.; the Rev. John A. Brown, '56-'59; the Rev. Dr. Ross Stevenson, '60-'71; the Rev. E. G. McKinley, '72-'90; the Rev. John McCoy, '91-'00, and the present pastor, the Rev. Dr. Robert Laird Smith, who took charge of the church in 1901.

The ministers who have gone out from this church are the Rev. Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church of New York; the Rev. Dr. James D. Moorehead, for 35 years pastor of the Beaver Falls Presbyterian church and the Rev. Dr. John McConaughy of New York. The oldest member of the church is Mrs. Elder, widow of Col. Samuel Elder who died recently at the age of 95. Mrs. Elder is now in her 90th year. The old church building, just pulled down, was built in 1847.

The start for the new church was made in a bequest of $3,000 by the late Mrs. Elizabeth Denby, whose family has their summer home at Ligonier. Col. George F. Senft, superintendent of the Ligonier Valley railroad, a member of the building committee, will run an excursion train from Latrobe tomorrow morning to take the Latrobe people to the dedication. A fraternal meeting will be held in the afternoon, when all ministers in Ligonier valley will be expected to be present.

National Founders Announce New Policy to Foster Individual Improvement of Their Employes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18.—Secretary Hutchins and Commissioner Briggs tonight gave out an "outline of policy" adopted by the National Founders association, which has been in session here since Wednesday. In part it is as follows:

"Employes will be paid by the hourly rate, by premium system, piece work, or contract, as the employers may elect, and the workman so employed will be required to give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay. It is the privilege of the employe to leave our employ whenever he sees fit, and it is the privilege of the employer to discharge any workman when he sees fit.

"The number of apprentices, helpers and handy men to be employed will be determined solely by the requirements of the employer.

"It shall be the right of the foundrymen to introduce molding machines and appliances of any kind, and to have the same operated by whomsoever he finds to his best advantage to employ thereon.

"The members of this association will not arbitrate any question with men on a strike. Neither will this association countenance a lockout on any arbitrable question, unless arbitration has failed.

"In case of disagreement concerning matters not covered by the foregoing announcement, we advise our members to meet their employes either individually or collectively, and endeavor to adjust the difficulty on a fair and equitable basis."

THOUSANDS FOR AID OF COTTON MILL STRIKERS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—The Federation of Labor today unanimously voted to levy an assessment of one cent per week for three weeks in aid of the textile workers now out on strike at Fall River, Mass. This will immediately release $75,000 for the aid of the strikers.

The vote was received with cheering. Many delegates rose in their seats and tendered checks or even cash as the share of their organizations, to John Golden, representative of the United Textile Workers of the United States.

Delegate Mary Kenney O'Sullivan of the National Women's Trade Union league depicted scenes in Fall River since the strike began. One meal a day, consisting of soup and two slices of bread, was, she alleged, the fare of 1,400 women and children.

Figuring on a basis of a membership of 2,000,000, it is estimated aid to the extent of $25,000 a week will be given the strikers.

Charged With His Family Murder.

AUBURN, CAL., Nov. 18.—Adolph Weber, by verdict of a coroner's jury, is charged with the murder of his father, mother, sister and brother.

A CONFIDENTIAL CHAT.

"It's perfect nonsense, Beasie, for you to talk of being laid on the shelf. Why, it all depends on yourself. Forget your worries, your aches and ailments; do as I did, take plenty of out-of-door air, cultivate happiness by not allowing your mind to dwell on the trifles and the worries of life. I sent thirty-one cents in stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for his 'Common Sense Medical Adviser,' and found it contained much useful information about the care of my health, about physiology, anatomy, and everything a woman should know. I then decided to write Dr. Pierce and tell him all about my ailments. I received such a nice, carefully considered and confidential letter, in reply, giving me advice about my diet, exercise and all. This advice is free to everyone and I wonder you don't write him at once. It didn't take me many months to regain my good looks. Ever since I was fifteen I have suffered untold agonies periodically but now I am free from pain, worry and bad temper. Occasionally I took Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—this for the complexion, and to stimulate the liver. Then I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription three times a day for those womanly weaknesses I told you about. That's my secret of beauty. It's the easiest thing in the world to be happy and keep one's good looks. Look at the thousands of women who have been made well by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; look how they keep their good looks. Dr. Pierce offers $500 reward for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure."

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

C.; Bishop Haas, Jackson, Miss.; Charles A. Rollick, Fargo, N. D.; Rev. James M. Cleary, Minneapolis;; general superintendent, P. A. Baker, Columbus, O.; legislative superintendent, Rev. E. C. Dinwiddie, Washington, D. C.; recording secretary, S. F. Nicholson, Harrisburg, Pa.; corresponding secretary, Prof. J. M. Barker, Newton Center, Mass.; treasurer, Foster Copeland, Columbus, O.

Executive committee—Floyd M. Thompkins, Philadelphia; I. K. Funk, New York; Rev. James M. Cameron, Blackstone, Va.; Col. Ell F. Ritter, Indianapolis; Mrs. Clinton Smith, Washington, D. C.; James Slocum, Michigan; G. W. Hawkhurst, Falls Church, Va.; W. C. Lilley, Pittsburgh.

Headquarters committee—W. B. Wheeler, Columbus, O., chairman; Rev. S. E. Nicholson, Harrisburg, Pa., secretary; William H. Anderson, Chicago.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Indianapolis in November, 1905.

The resolutions adopted declare that the "liquor traffic must be regarded and dealt with as a crime," call upon congress to make prohibition a condition of statehood for Indian territory, and favor the passage of the so-called Hepburn-Dolliver bill "in such form as shall effectively secure to the states power to control the liquor traffic within their own boundaries from without, under the guise of interstate commerce.

"Until exchanges without intoxicating liquors have had a full and fair trial, in spirit and effort, during the existence of conditions essential to their success, we will do all in our power to resist the efforts of the liquor interests and their friends to have the law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors on military reservations repealed."

WILL MAKE A PLACE FOR SENATOR COCKRELL

President Roosevelt May Appoint Him Civil Service Commissioner.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The joy of the administration at the winning of Missouri in the recent election is tempered by one regret. That is that the venerable Senator Cockrell will be succeeded by a Republican from that state. Although a stanch Democrat, in fact one of the few "southern brigadiers" left in congress, Senator Cockrell was admired by President Roosevelt and leading Republicans for his high integrity and his reasonableness.

It is now reported that the president is considering him for civil service commissioner to succeed Gen. John C. Black, who is slated to become commissioner of pensions on January 1. If this place is not given him it is quite certain that some other comfortable berth will be provided, as Senator Cockrell is not by any means a rich man.

Elihu Root, former secretary of war, who is in the city, paid a tribute to Senator Cockrell today that gives an idea of the esteem in which he is held by the Republican administration. He said:

"I suppose that the Republican legislature of Missouri is bound to send a Republican to the United States senate, but I would be pleased if partisanship could be forgotten long enough to retain the public service of a man who is as deserving as Senator Cockrell. His long experience, his ability, his industry and attention to business, his high sense of public duty and his standing as a citizen, makes him an invaluable public official. As a Republican, opposed to him in politics, I can say that I sincerely regret that the government is to lose a man like Senator Cockrell."

GREAT HOUSE OF LEARNING NEAR

IDEAS OF DR. S. B. M'CORMICK

Within a short time the board of trustees of the Western university will announce the selection of a site for the institution, somewhere between the western limits of Oakland and the western boundary of the East End; and after the site has been bought the work of Western university expansion, which has been a topic in educational circles for 10 years past, will begin in earnest.

A hint at the probabilities was given by the chancellor of the university, the Rev. Dr. S. B. McCormick in a speech at the banquet of the Oakland board of trade on Thursday night. Dr. McCormick said the project of expansion was "no longer a dream," that the university would have from 25 to 50 acres of land upon which 20 buildings would be erected, and he expressed his belief that Pittsburgh would support a university second to none in the country.

A great university is what Dr. McCormick has set his heart upon. Not merely a scientific school, but an institution where the practical sciences, while occupying an important place, will not exclude the classics, the liberal arts, the humanities. When Dr. McCormick was told last night that some men interested in the welfare of the Western university had expressed a fear that expansion was desired on the scientific rather than on the academic side, and deplored this supposed tendency because they thought the very industrialism of Pittsburgh was a reason why the collegiate courses should be pushed to the front to counteract any possible growth of materialism he said that such persons need not fear.

Ambition of the Chancellor.

"Why," he added, "I hope that the time will soon come when the college course will have a graduating class of 50, which would mean an enrollment of 225 to 250 students. I hope that in the not far distant future the engineering and college courses will have an enrollment of 500."

"I would not have anybody misunderstand my remarks at the Oakland board of trade's banquet," continued Dr. McCormick. "We have not secured a site, but a committee has been appointed by the board of trustees to select a site. Nobody has promised contributions, but we know from information we have received that when once a start has been made, when once a site has been secured, the money to erect the buildings will be forthcoming. There are a dozen available sites in Oakland, Bellefield and Shadyside. We hope to secure an ideal site, but if that is not attainable, we expect to secure some good site. We must have at least 25 acres, and if we can get 50, so much the better."

The chancellor wants the greater university to have a big campus and commodious dormitories—campus, dormitories and dining halls being incentives to a growth of college spirit. Some time, he intends, there shall be a teachers' college, an institution that is not to take the place of normal schools, but that will be patronized by normal school graduates who wish to perfect themselves in teaching methods.

A Believer in Co-Education.

The Western university is now in theory a co-educational institution, but there are not more than a half dozen female students. The chancellor thinks the university will become co-educational in fact.

Evidently Chancellor McCormick and the trustees, it has been inferred from recent developments, have adopted a new tack. Instead of lamenting that Pittsburgh will not contribute funds to make the greater university, they are going ahead themselves to make one, intending to ask the people to aid them. Instead of criticising Pittsburghers for sending their children to Yale, Harvard and Princeton, they are bent upon creating an institution that will acquire the prestige possessed by the older universities, this compelling recognition from those seeking an education for their children. As a man who expects great things from the trustees, the chancellor said last night: "They are not waiting for some one to hand them an Aladdin's lamp, but have decided to fashion one themselves out of hard work and energy, and if they rub it hard enough the educational palace of their aspirations will build up before their very eyes."

MONTH REQUIRED TO REPAIR WIRES

DAMAGE TO THE TELEPHONE

Words, words, words by the million. Enough in a single night to make 40 novels. More words than Shakespeare wrote in his whole life, all dumped into Pittsburgh between sunset and morning. Harsh words from the west must tarry in Pittsburgh on their way east. Polite words from the east are consigned to the west. Such is the condition of local offices of the Postal and Western Union telegraph companies since Sunday's terrific storm on the Atlantic coast.

A month will be required to repair the damage caused by the havoc of the storm. Thousands of miles of wires are down and hundreds of electricians and linemen are at work hoisting temporary lines for use until the regular ones of communication are established. All day tomorrow, from Boston to Richmond, Va., the indefatigable hustlers will continue their task, and on Monday messages will be promptly sent.

An idea of the immense volume of business done by telegraph companies can be gained only in times of emergency such as that experienced this week. On Tuesday 27,000 commercial messages were handled by the Western Union alone at its Pittsburgh office. A conservative estimate of the number of words in each message is 20, making the total number on hand exceed 540,000 words. It is a big novel that contains 50,000 words. Thus it will be seen that if this great number of words had been compiled into a running story that 11 good-sized volumes would have been made. Newspaper specials contain practically as many more.

When the wires east of Harrisburg were crushed down by the storm of sleet, all the messages the west intended for Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York and Boston were relayed from Pittsburgh and Buffalo. The great majority were unloaded here and it was then that words were piled up mountain high. Nothing accumulates as rapidly as words, and the operators struggled all night long with their crippled wires to rid themselves of the avalanche that burdened their tables. Some were sent through the mails and others were routed by remote lines.

The American Telegraph and Telephone Company sent a construction gang of 100 men from the Pittsburgh district to repair the long-distance telephone wires in the devastated section. On one line 1,900 poles are reported to be down. This represents nearly 1,000 miles of wires. Twelve lines are working between New York and Pittsburgh. A month will be required to repair the damage. In some districts the repair work will amount to the entire reconstruction of the lines.

COULD NOT AGREE ON THE NEW SITE

Committee Refers Location of High School Back to the Central Board.

EIGHT MORE OFFERS MADE

After an hour's discussion last evening the committee appointed to select a site for the new high school building was unable to reach a decision and the meeting ended with a vote to refer the whole matter back to the Central board.

Six out of the 21 sites offered were voted upon, but all failed to receive one needed vote. Chairman Jamison then suggested that as it would require many hours to go through the full list the whole subject had better be referred to the board. On motion of Mr. O'Toole this action was approved and the secretary was instructed to inform the members of the board that on account of the absence from the city of President D. L. Gillespie the meeting would be deferred one week from the regular meeting time, November 22. On that date the board was to have given especial attention to this matter. Following is the vote on the six sites considered:

Singer and Mashey combined, Penn and Fifth avenues—Ayes, McElroy, Bradley and McMillen; noes, Roth, Klein, O'Toole and Jamison.

Lloyd, Fifth and Bellefield avenues—Ayes, Messrs. McElroy, Roth and McMillen; noes, Messrs. Bradley, Klein, O'Toole and Jamison.

Magee, Forbes street—Ayes, Messrs. McElroy, Roth, McMillen and Bradley; noes, Messrs. Klein, O'Toole and Jamison.

Ayers and Irish, Neville street and Ellsworth avenue—Ayes, Messrs. McElroy and Roth; noes, Messrs. Bradley, McMillen, Klein, O'Toole and Jamison.

On each of the foregoing the motion was made to recommend, but on each the vote was split and in them all the committee was widely at variance.

There were eight sites submitted that had not been offered to the committee before the meeting last night. They were as follows:

Friday, November 18, 1904.

YALE RULES STRONG FAVORITE OVER HARVARD

CONDITIONS FAVOR YALE TEAM TODAY

YOST VISITS WALTER CAMP

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 18.—Except for a dogged, persistent undercurrent of Harvard determination it is all Yale in the football guesses on the eve of the annual battle of the old rivals.

Yale in the betting, Yale in the top notch of condition, Yale on her home gridiron, Yale with a veteran aggregation, Yale with a rush line that has not been pierced, Yale with a back field that nothing has checked, Harvard alone with the weight, the raw material, sums up the situation.

No man close to the Harvard team has laid a dollar on the eleven, whose possibilities he knows, unless he extorted the usurious odds of 3 or 4 to 1, and a Harvard man who is here with his college mates; in fact, who rooms with a member of the Harvard eleven, said tonight:

"I wouldn't take a bet on Harvard unless I could get odds of 10 to 1. Our team has not got together, and the shakeup the past week has left it unsteady. Yale ought to score 24 points."

The forlorn hope which Harvard players lead was voiced in its not hopeful tone by one of the men, who said: "We are far from giving up hope. We beat West Point with an untried eleven, tied Dartmouth and meeting Pennsylvania without preparation, team play or our best men lost, 11 to 0. Today we could beat Penn, we think."

Crimson Is Confident.

"Against Yale we will have our best team, 100 per cent stronger than our team against Pennsylvania or West Point, and putting on plays that have never been seen on any gridiron. With these we feel that we have a fighting chance to land victory, and we propose to take it if possible."

That is the optimistic view of Harvard's chances, but they are not reflected in the size of the Cambridge crowd or in the betting. All day tickets have been coming in from Boston, returned because there is a frost on the game in the home of the Harvard players. Thousands of dollars are left in the hotels of this city awaiting takers at odds of 2 to 1, the best figure that Yale men will retain their senses and win.

In the Yale camp Captain Hogan is warning the players against over-confidence. "We may have a better chance on form," said he, "but we know that we are in for a stiff game which is really anybody's battle."

Head Coach Wrightington of Harvard said of his men: "We have been improving in form physically and in team work all the week, and are encouraged because Meier and Brill are better, although it has been decided that we shall start Derby at right tackle instead of Meier."

Today's work for both elevens was of the lightest and was designed to head off nervousness which comes from inactivity, rather than to drill the players in actual play.

Much Excitement Present.

Signal drill for the Harvard squad behind the canvas stretched on the Pequot house lawn at Morris Cove, signal drill on the Yale field gridiron from which the straw was raked for the occasion, comprised the afternoon's work. Tonight the Harvard men slept in their clubhouse rooms beside the wave-lapped shore at Morris Cove.

The noise and excitement of the coming crush, which began roaring this afternoon, proved too much for the Yale men, and they were taken to the college infirmary on Prospect hill to sleep.

Tomorrow morning they will be driven after their breakfast at the New Haven house training table for a five-mile drive and a morning at the New Haven Country club. They will lunch at the New Haven house tomorrow noon and will go to the gymnasium at 12:45 to dress. Their two special trolley cars will leave the gymnasium at 1:25 for the university field.

The Harvard eleven were tonight told that they would leave the Pequot house at 1:45 tomorrow morning, take special trolley cars five miles back into the city, lunch at the Young Men's Christian association building, dress there and take special cars at 1:15 from the Y. M. C. A. building to the Yale field.

The advent of the squad of western coaches, "Hurry Up" Yost, Graduate Director Baird and Keene Fitzpatrick of the University of Michigan, set tongues to wagging this afternoon about the possibility of a game between the east and the west for next season.

Yost to See Game.

Mr. Baird laughed when he was asked if a contest was being negotiated. He said:

"We came here to see a game, not to arrange one. Our mission was not to talk business this trip."

Mr. Yost was asked to talk about the prospects of the teams for tomorrow and said: "That is something I haven't the least idea about. I never saw a Yale-Harvard game in my life, and came east to see my first."

Keene Fitzpatrick, who left Yale to go to Michigan in 1898, looked the eleven over and said that to him they seemed in fine condition. Dan Hoban, the Princeton coach, also arrived today and also looked over the Yale squad. He is also an ex-Yale trainer and is rooting for Eli as a chance of getting another jab at his old rival, "Scotty" McMasters of Harvard. He said the Yale squad was in first rate shape and sure to play in top-notch form. "We found out what that was down in Princeton last Saturday," he added, with a smile.

Yost, Baird and Fitzpatrick had a social call on Walter Camp, the Yale director of athletics, tonight, but both sides said after it was over that the Michigan men were simply paying their respects to the distinguished Yale authority.

The line-up as announced by the coaches follows:

PUPILS WILL CHEER FAVORITES

Annual Shadyside-High School Contest Will Be Played This Afternoon.

OTHER CONTESTS OF THE DAY

School boys and girls will be out in full force this afternoon at Friendship park to see the Shadyside academy eleven, champions of the past four years, and Pittsburgh High school engage in their annual football meeting. High school will present its strongest team on the field and confidence pervades its camp.

High school last year was considered the second best school eleven in the Interscholastic race and the players and student body are confident of again taking the honor, which will come to them by winning today. Reports from the Shadyside camp have that team in bad shape, but High school is disposed to regard them as "bear stories."

Capt. Arch Williams of Shadyside, who has been ill all week with tonsilitis, was on the field yesterday at Shadyside, but not in uniform. Williams was weak from his illness, and it is not likely he will be able to play today. His physician forbids him getting into the game and the coaches have selected Herron to play his left half. Another change made by the coaches that came as a surprise was the sending of Alex. McCracken to the side lines and putting Karl Borntraeger in at fullback. McCracken, however, will be played, the coaches say, but not before the beginning of the second half.

Joe Thompson, captain of the W. U. P. team, will be the referee, and Maxon, a former Homestead player, will be the umpire. The kickoff will take place at 3 o'clock. Twenty-five-minute halves will be played. The lineup:

P. will line up as follows:

ALLEGHENY PREPS WIN THE SECOND FROM TRINITY HALL

Washington Students Unable to Hold Snitzer's Proteges, Who Roll Up 29 Points by Hard Playing.

The Allegheny Preparatory school eleven won its second annual game from the Trinity Hall school of Washington yesterday afternoon at Exposition park, 29 to 0. The Preps from Washington were unable to withstand the rushes of Coach Snitzer's pupils, who rolled up 18 points in the first half, representing three touchdowns and the same number of goals.

Trinity Hall was unable to make a decent gain around the ends, and it seldom got through the line for first downs, making about five during the contest. The visitors did not use good judgment in carrying the ball, and they made fumbles that were costly. Worcester, Fife and Tustin did the best work for the Preps in advancing the ball on rushes and runs.

Worcester hurdled the line, waded through and circled the ends for consistent gains. Fife tore up the Trinity Hall defense by dashing through holes, which in many cases were made by Lyon or Ed. Murphy. Lucas, a 140-pound substitute, and Hughes, about 100 pounds, used excellent judgment in running off the plays. Clarence Reiter, the Preps' captain, got out of bed before the game and played hard. He was ill with tonsilitis for the past few days. He went from halfback to left end, exchanging positions with Worcester.

Reiter was strong on the defense, and a run of 68 yards by him in the first half for a touchdown was a feature. He got the ball on a kick on the Trinity Hall's last down, and ran through the entire field for a touchdown.

On the kickoff at the start of the game Trinity Hall fumbled the ball, three men lugging the leather. Worcester, Reiter and Fife for the Preps on the 15-yard line, and Tustin, in six plays, was shoved over the line. Line bucking got Tustin over for the next and Reiter scored another on his long run. Reiter kicked all the goals.

Fife dashed through the line for 17 yards and a touchdown in the second half and Worcester ran around the end 20 yards for the second. Tustin missed the punt out on the last touchdown.

Coach Mosse and Capt. Thompson of W. U. P. officiated the game in a satisfactory manner with Timekeeper Hendricks of the Preps had little to do with the watch in consequence. The lineup:

Allegheny Preps—29.		Trinity Hall—0.
Reiter	L. E.	W. Wagner
Ed. Murphy	L. T.	Huff
Shilton	L. G.	Elliott

The South Side Juniors will play the St. Aloysius' team in the preliminary.

PITTSBURGH GOLFER IS LEADING THE TOURNEY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 18.—The first and second rounds at match play for the first three sixteens who qualified in the Atlantic City Country club open tournament and the first round for the three defeated eights, brought out considerable golf of interest. The chief interest was centered in the work of the first cup division, although many of the other matches were followed by personal friends of the competitors.

The largest gathering was there in the afternoon, and all of the contests in the second round for the governor's cup brought out good golf. The beger for the course is 82, 42 out and 42 in, and when a man plays golf in bogey or under is doing great work. W. C. Fownes, Jr., who is regarded by many as a possible winner, went out in 39 and won his match handily. Their cards were:

Fownes	4	4	5	3	6	4	6	6	4—39
Baldwin	4	6	6	3	6	3	6	4	6—44
Fownes	4	4	5	3	6	3	6	4	6—41—80
Baldwin	5	4	4	6	4	6			—24—68

H. W. Perrin, one of Philadelphia's champions, who is regarded as a dangerous man, went out in 40 to the Boston man's 42, leading by 2 up at the turn, and winning at the fourteenth hole by 6 up and 4 to play.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—"Teck" Matthews, the old W. and J. fullback, returned to Washington yesterday from his home in Texas and will for the remainder of the season have charge of the back field players, assisting Head Coach Seaman. Matthews played with the scrub team against the varsity team this afternoon and occasionally made good gains.

The varsity defense is improving rapidly and "Teck" was repeatedly stopped. Manager Grubbs was informed by the Dickinson management today that Sharpe of Yale could not be secured to officiate, and it is probable that "Jack" Minds of the University of Pennsylvania will referee with Poe as umpire. A decision in regard to the officials will be made tomorrow morning.

CORNELL VARSITY IS ON FIELD AND PRACTICES HARD

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The Cornell varsity appeared on the field today with every man in his position. This is the first time there has been a full varsity eleven on the field since the Columbia game. The practice consisted first of a long signal drill of the new formations which will be used against Pennsylvania. Among the many plays are several fooleys which Coach Warner is counting upon to keep the Quakers guessing. While the team worked well in signal practice it did not put up a good front against the scrubs when the scrimmage was held. The substitutes gained more actual ground than the regulars and neither side was able to score. This part of the practice was very disappointing to Coach Warner, who seems to be unable to get his team to work the intricate formations which he gives them in the scrimmage. Fullback Halliday suffered injuries which compelled him to leave the field. How seriously he is hurt the physicians will not say.

Flinn May Get In Game.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—In case Owsley does not play in the lineup tomorrow against Harvard, or in case he is disabled, A. Flinn of Pittsburgh, a member of the junior class, will take Owsley's place. Flinn, like Leavenworth, was discovered at the eleventh hour at Yale's football training. Both Flinn and Leavenworth have played on the third and fourth elevens until the Columbia game three weeks ago, when these two players were put into the back field as substitutes after Yale had the game well in hand. Both men showed such ability that coaches took hold of them and made varsity players out of them in two weeks' time.

REFEREE WANTED TO END DISPUTE

W. U. P. Names Judge Buffington to Decide if McIlveen is Eligible to Play.

MOSSE ISSUES STATEMENT

The Alumni Athletic committee of the Western university of Pennsylvania yesterday decided to not deviate from the stand it took on the McIlveen case. State also has expressed itself by saying that there will be no game if McIlveen is kept out of it.

Representatives of W. U. P. and State conferred yesterday, but came to no definite understanding. C. Arthur Mosse, coach and general manager of the W. U. P. team, last night issued a statement, which, referring to the McIlveen case, is as follows:

"In view of the many different stories that have appeared in the Pittsburgh papers with regard to the playing of McIlveen, I think it only right that I should make a statement setting forth the true facts of the case.

"In the first place I protested against McIlveen's playing about a month ago, although it has been stated that I only protested since the Dickinson game. I wrote two letters, one to Golden and one to Manager Smith, in each of which I objected. Since the game I have not written to them on the subject, and any report to the contrary is untrue, at the time I protested Forkum and Moscript were in the game.

"As a matter of fact the dispute can very easily be adjusted, as the alumni executive committee is perfectly willing to leave it to arbitration, and Judge Buffington has been named, and is, I believe, satisfactory to State college's representative here. The latter has referred this to the authorities at State and we are only waiting now for their consent, which they can hardly refuse.

"Now, for all I know McIlveen is a good student and intends to finish his course at college, but that has nothing to do with the fact that he was not in attendance within the two weeks required in the contract."

PENN TO SEE THE GAME AS GUESTS OF HARVARD

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Penn's football warriors took their last hard practice of the year this afternoon. On Monday they will indulge in their final scrimmage with the scrubs, two days of light signal practice will put the team in as good shape as it is possible to get it for the climax of the season with Cornell on Thanksgiving day.

In the morning the entire varsity squad, numbering 23 men, and accompanied by three or four coaches, will go to New Haven to attend the Yale-Harvard game, as the guests of the Harvard team. The Yale eleven will act in the same capacity as host to the Princeton eleven. The Pennsylvania squad will remain in New Haven Saturday night and will return to Philadelphia Sunday morning.

Young Americans Win Game.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Nov. 18.—

SOCIETY

AN INTERESTING wedding scheduled for next week is that of Miss Martha W. Mahood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mahood, and the Rev. George Ernest Raitt, which will be conducted at the home of the bride's parents in Princeton place, East End, on Tuesday evening. Eight o'clock is the hour set for the ceremony at which the Rev. Dr. Robert M. Russell, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, will officiate. His daughter, Miss Jane Russell, will be Miss Mahood's maid of honor and only attendant. Rev. Mr. Raitt and his bride will be at home in Philadelphia after December 15. He and his mother, Mrs. G. P. Raitt of New York, are expected in the city on Monday and during her visit in the city the latter will be entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Russell at their home in North Sheridan avenue, East End. The King's Daughters of the church gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Mahood at her home last Tuesday evening.

The engagement of Miss Mahood and Mr. Raitt was made public last spring by Mrs. Russell at a luncheon she gave at her home. At that time Mr. Raitt was Dr. Russell's assistant, but he has since accepted a call to Philadelphia. Miss Mahood is a graduate of the Pennsylvania College for Women, class of 1900. Her fiance is a graduate of the Union college, Schenectady, and of the Allegheny Theological seminary.

"Maryland, My Maryland."

It was Maryland day with the Women's Southern society yesterday when the members met in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music, with the president, Mrs. Henry Jones Ford, presiding, and Mrs. John Lord Lordemyer, leader for the day. The singing of "Maryland, My Maryland" opened the program. "Maryland in the Days of Lord Baltimore" was ably talked of by Mrs. James D. Murray, Jr., and Mrs. Selwyn Colburn discussed the "Boundary Dispute With Penn." Miss Dorothy Ford's paper telling of Maryland's part in the revolution was well received. Mrs. Edward B. Day talked on the state's noted men and women. In addition to the scheduled program, Mrs. Kebler, a guest of the club, sang, and Mrs. Anton Butchard played several southern plantation melodies. Tea was served, Mrs. William L. Kestell, Miss Charlotte Price and Mrs. Warren LaRue Thomas acting as hostesses.

Wellesly Club's Tea.

Members of the Vassar, Smith and Bryn Mawr college clubs and of the Collegiate Alumnae association were the guests of the Wellesly club girls at the tea given yesterday afternoon in the Twentieth Century club house. The guests were received by the president, Miss Elizabeth McMillan, and the other officers, assisted by Miss Effie McMillan, Miss Helen McMillan, Miss Mary Gilson, Miss Marion Ingham, Miss Katherine Linn, Miss Grace Steiner, Miss Annie Orr, Miss Annie Davis, Miss Ellen Patterson, Miss Annie McCord, Miss Emma Liesman, Miss Edith Behrhorst, Miss Eleanor Ferguson and Miss Helen Whitman. The musical program was given by Miss Caroline Duff, Miss Parsons, Miss Ruth Thoburn, Miss Margaret Martin, Miss Almira McFall and Miss Winifred Scott. The assembly and dining rooms of the club were devoted to the guests.

Informal Home Reception.

Although a large affair the reception given yesterday by Mrs. Abram Garrison Holmes of Fifth avenue was a very informal and thoroughly enjoyable one. Mrs. Holmes received alone, assisted only by Mrs. Arthur Vining Davis, Mrs. A. M. Imbrie, Miss Ruth Langworthy and Mrs. Marcellin Adams. Mrs. Holmes, in a white lace robe, welcomed her guests standing against a background of palms.

Reception and Dance.

One of the largest and most beautifully appointed social affairs of the early season was the tea at which Mrs. Frederick Raymond Rebecque was hostess yesterday afternoon. The affair was conducted from 3 until 6 o'clock at the Country club in Squirrel hill, the honors of the occasion being shared by Mrs. Edward Voss Babcock and Mrs. J. Dawson Callery. Mrs. Babcock and her two guests of honor received together, assisted by Mrs. David Lindsay Gillespie, Mrs. John Fremont Shafer, Mrs. William N. Furey, Mrs. D. A. Samuels, Mrs. W. H. Stevenson and Mrs. Oscar H. Babcock. The tea in the afternoon was followed by a cotillion about 100 guests in the evening. At the supper, following the dance, the favors for the girls were single American Beauty roses, the men receiving boutonnieres of white carnations.

Will Have Two Honor Guests.

Mrs. Thomas D. Chantler of Fifth avenue issued cards yesterday for a tea on Monday, November 28, to meet her sister, Mrs. Joseph W. Adams, and Mrs. Samuel Adams, her mother-in-law, of New Bethlehem, Pa. The two guests of honor, with Mr. Joseph Adams and their two boys, John and David, are expected in the city next Tuesday, and will be with Mrs. Chantler for a fortnight. The hours for the reception have been divided, the Allegheny and Sewickley friends of the hostess having been asked for the first set from 2 until 4 o'clock, and her Pittsburgh friends for the second from 4 until 6 o'clock. The entertainment will be informal and the hostess will be assisted.

Luncheon for Out-of-Town Guests.

Mrs. George D. Kelly of Craig street entertained with an informal luncheon of 12 covers yesterday in honor of Mrs. Seward Babbitt of New Rochelle, N. Y., who is visiting Mrs. J. C. DeNoon of Kelly street. In addition to the guest of honor, covers were laid for Mrs. DeNoon, Mrs. Samuel Hubley, Mrs. William Gass, Mrs. Frank B. P. Blackmore, Mrs. J. A. Perley and one or two others. Mrs. Finley Torrens of South Rebecca street, East End, was hostess at an informal luncheon of 12 covers yesterday, the guests having been asked to meet Miss Katherine Eichnitz of Baltimore, who is visiting Mrs. Joseph Jones of South Negley avenue.

Meeting of Epoch Club.

Mrs. Emil Keller of the Schenley was hostess at the meeting of the Epoch club yesterday. It was an interesting session opened by Mrs. Joseph P. Karch with a paper on the "Taiping Rebellion and the Opening of China's Ports to Foreign Trade." Mrs. Charles Eaton followed this with a paper on "Li Hung Chang —An Introduction of Western Ideas and Methods." "Canton and Peking" was the subject discussed by Mrs. Frank Taylor. The next meeting will be an open one at the home of Mrs. Frank Boggs in South Dallas avenue on December 2. Miss Mary Swift Wright will lecture at that time on "Art."

Luncheon for Miss Balken.

A very dainty affair was the luncheon at which Mrs. George A. Macbeth of Amberson avenue was hostess yesterday in honor of her niece, Miss Harriet Balken, the only debutante of the season. White chrysanthemums, with their foliage, formed the favors. Covers were laid for seven, among the guests being Miss Balken, Miss Helen Macbeth, Miss Anne Macbeth and Miss Florence Brooke of Philadelphia, a cousin of Mrs. Macbeth, and at present her guest. The other guests were selected from last year's debutantes, of which Miss Helen Macbeth was one.

Guests in the City.

Clarence Schmertz, a student at Lehigh university, arrived in the city yesterday, and will remain over Thanksgiving as the guest of Albert Jones Ford of the Boehmwood boulevard.

Miss Stella Rauh of Cincinnati is the guest of Miss Belle Floersheim of Bartlett street, Squirrel hill.

Notes of Society.

The East End Young Women's Christian association held the annual bazaar and supper in the South Highland auditorium last evening.

The Business Women's club gave a masquerade in the club rooms in Arch street, Allegheny, last evening.

Mrs. William Harris of Amberson avenue gave a dinner last evening in honor of Miss Mabel Grace McLain and her fiancee, Hiram Harris.

Curtis Hussey will give a theater party this evening in honor of Miss Clara Hussey's guest, Miss Aldrich of New York.

GUARDIANS OF THE PEACE WILL BE ON INSPECTION

Police Force of City to Pass Under Critical Eyes of Officials on Thanksgiving.

The annual police inspection will be held Thanksgiving day, November 24, at 10 o'clock, at Fifth avenue and St. Pierre street. This is the first time in two years the inspection has been made of the officers, winter uniforms, patrol wagons and horses.

At present there are 410 police officers in the city, including the officials on the roll. There are 388 patrolmen and sergeants, 10 lieutenants, five captains, five inspectors and a superintendent and assistant superintendent. This is the smallest police force, compared to the size of the city, of any municipality in the United States.

The officers will be clad in their heavy winter uniforms, white gloves and black helmets. They will march to the reviewing stand headed by the Fourteenth regiment band. The inspection will be made before the city officials under the direction of Superintendent Alexander Wallace.

CONCERT WAS PLEASING.

Young Artist Well Received.

The Art society of Pittsburgh gave its 309th annual reception at Carnegie Music hall last evening in the form of a concert by Miss Marie Nicholls, violinist; Mr. Felix Hughes, baritone, and Mrs. Adella Prentiss-Hughes, accompanist. The audience was of fair size and the concert, although not the most notable given here this season, was attractive and enjoyable.

Miss Nicholls, aside from her decided personal attractions and her youth, is a sterling little artist of decided power as a technician. She brings a good big tone out of her violin and is not disposed to play tricks with the tempo. She is not, as yet, a very finished or a very intellectual player, but there is promise of these. Her second number, the introduction and Rondo Capriccioso, by Saint Saens, captured the audience and she received a hearty encore. Miss Nicholls also played the Tartini Sonata in G minor for violin and a triple number, the "Chantes Russe," Gentarre, and Fantaisie ballet, all by Edward Lalo.

Mr. Hughes created a pleasing impression, though his voice is not a strong one. His method is one of simplicity and good taste, and he, and Miss Nicholls as well, were gratifyingly free of mannerisms or affectations. A Scotch air, "My Dearie," by Pascal, was repeated at the insistence of the audience, and for an encore to "My Love Nell," by Fox, Mr. Hughes sang "By the Short Cut to the Rosses." Mr. Hughes' other numbers were a group of German and a group of French songs, and three other English songs. To Mrs. Adella Prentiss-Hughes' sympathetic accompaniments both soloists owe much.

ACCEPTED INVITATION FOR PEACE CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The government of the Netherlands has formally advised Secretary Hay that it gladly accepts the suggestion that the peace conference be reconvened at The Hague. So far no formal acceptances of the American invitation in its full breadth has been received, but it is stated that nearly all of the European powers already have indicated that they accept the president's invitation.

Motor Boats to Rival Automobiles.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Merchant marine yachts and high speed motor boats were the subject of discussion at today's session of the Naval Architects and Marine Engineers' convention. Prophecies were made that in a short time motor boats would rival automobiles in number.

LIEBIG COMPANY'S EXTRACT OF BEEF

COMPRESSED VIGOR

Every advanced physician admits the value of concentrated food products in convalescense or impaired digestion. LIEBIG COMPANY'S EXTRACT is by far the best of these. Excellent for the Sick and a good thing for the well.

Why Men Grow Weak

It Is Due to a Wasting of the Most Vital Elements, Which Destroys the Whole of the Bodily Forces.

It makes young men feel old and it cuts off the usefulness of middle-aged and old men long before their allotted time, resulting in premature decline and decay. It robs the blood of all its richness, exhausts the body of its animating powers, and saps the very life itself from the brain and nerve centers. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food acts at once upon this impoverished condition of the blood, brain and nerve forces, stopping the drain and replacing the run down and worn out tissues with the same material that has been wasted. It fills the shriveled arteries with pure, rich blood, which increases the weight in sound, healthy flesh and muscles, that give you strength, and the brain and nerves with fresh, vital fluid, that forces new life and vigor into every portion of the body, building up the entire system and transforming the sufferer into a type of perfect manhood. Weigh yourself before taking it. Price 50 cents. Book free.

STOCK MARKET REACTED AND PRICES CLOSED LOWER

Losses Were Evenly Distributed Among Railroads and Industrials—$25,000,000 Government Deposits To Be Withdrawn.

By JOHN O. EAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There were two rallies and two reactions in the New York stock market yesterday, indicating uncertainty on the part of professional traders as to the immediate future course of the market. The net result of the day's trading was a net decline that was pretty evenly distributed among industrials and railroads. There were a few exceptions, but these were in inactive stocks, which had no bearing upon the general trend of the market.

At the opening prices were higher, and for about an hour the advance made fair progress. Attention was centered upon Amalgamated Copper and Sugar, because these had been the prominent leaders the day before. Copper opened at 81⅝ and moved up to 81¾, a new high point, but there was a quick reaction to 79⅞, followed by a recovery to 81¼ and a final decline to 79⅝ at the close. This movement was no doubt professional. A prominent Boston speculator is bulling the stock, and this same speculator has been publishing stories about the managers of Amalgamated that would naturally incline the latter to go out of their way to spoil the play of the speculator. Sugar opened 2 points higher, at 151, advanced to 152½, broke to 150½, rallied to 151⅛ and closed at 150, a net gain of 1 per cent. It was one of the few stocks to close at an advance.

The United States Steel stocks as well as the minor industrials seemed to be influenced by the course of the leaders. Steel common opened higher at 27⅛, advanced to 28 and broke to 27. The preferred rallied to 88¾ in the early dealings, but sold off to and closed at 87¼. The sinking fund bonds rallied to 89⅝ and closed at 89½ bid, a net gain of ⅜ per cent. Tennessee Coal and Iron did not reach Thursday's high price and in the late dealings sold off and closed at the lowest. Republic Iron and Steel preferred was inactive, but strong all day. Smelting, the United States Rubber stocks and American Cotton Oil were active, but followed the course of the other industrials.

The railroad stocks were active and irregular all day. St. Paul made a new high mark at 175¾. Union Pacific preferred again touched 115⅞, and Rock Island preferred was very strong, but none of them held their gains. Southern Railway common was active at the opening, and tips were freely distributed that it was to be taken in hand and advanced sharply, but the stock closed at a net decline of ½ per cent. Louisville & Nashville closed 1½ per cent lower, Union Pacific 1½ per cent lower, and losses in the remainder of the list ranged from small fractions to 1 per cent. The close was heavy.

The market has ignored many striking incidents which ordinarily are effective in influencing values, so that it is difficult to account for its feverishness yesterday in the absence of any really important news. There was, however, some disappointment over the small buying orders received from the country upon the restoration of telegraphic service, and the late reaction was coincident with the announcement that Secretary Shaw had called upon the banks to withdraw $25,000,000 government deposits. For more than a week past there have been suggestions that the government would call upon the banks for a portion of its money, and Washington advices have steadily denied any such intention on the part of the secretary of the treasury. Yesterday's announcement that deposits would be withdrawn should not have had any effect upon the stock market for the reason that the first installment is only 10 per cent and this is not payable before January 15. Pittsburgh alone could furnish that 10 per cent without seriously affecting the local money market.

There was a better distribution of business on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday than for a long time past. Posted sales were made in 36 different securities, and the total transactions foot up 12,425 shares stock, $10,000 bonds, and 1,000 tons pig iron. Prices averaged higher, and there were no serious losses. Pittsburgh Coal was the most active, the common rallying to 22 and the preferred to 79 on sales of about 1,500 shares of each. Union Switch and Signal common was the strongest, advancing to 82 for regular lots and closing at 81½, a net gain of 2 a share. The preferred sold at 100. Air Brake closed unchanged at 150, and Electric, after ranging between 87 and 88, closed unchanged at 87¾. Crucible Steel had a good rally, the common reaching 9 and the preferred 47. There was also a strong rally in both the Fire Proofing stocks, but American Sewer Pipe closed ⅜ lower at 26⅝. The natural gas stocks were stronger, Pittsburgh Oil and Gas advancing to 78½ and closing at 78, a net advance of 3 per cent. There was a fair amount of trading in bank and trust company shares and prices were higher.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The upward movement in Union Switch & Signal was late starting, but is making up for lost time. The sale of 70 shares preferred yesterday at $100 a share (double par) is the first public sale this year. Last year it sold within the range of 100 and 96, and in 1902 it touched the record price of 110. The common stock is just $20 a share above the low point of last June, but is still $17 a share below the record price made in 1902. On the exchange yesterday R. C. Hall offered 5500 for the privilege of calling 500 shares this month at 85.

A small lot of American Window Glass preferred changed hands at 40, an advance of $2 a share over the last previous price. The company is now believed to be making money, and the recent buying is on the expectation that dividends will be resumed in 1905.

On call Second National Bank advanced $5 in the bid price to 720. Allegheny Trust was $4 higher at 150 bid. Colonial Trust was slightly lower at 388 asked.

According to current gossip the strength in National Fire Proofing was due to the formation of a little bull pool, members of which believe there is a considerable short interest in both the common and preferred, and that it can be induced to cover on a moderate advance.

Dealings in the coal stocks were only moderately active. Marlin was the largest buyer of River Coal preferred and Speer & Co. were large buyers of Pittsburgh Coal common and also of Crucible Steel.

The rise in Pittsburgh Oil and Gas is due to favorable gossip as to earnings, which are said to be about 14 per cent on the capital stock of $6,000,000.

A block of 500 shares Marsden changed hands on the local board yesterday, Hill & Co. to Carothers & Co. A Philadelphia interest in the company is quoted as saying: "The Linden plant is running full capacity, and we are considering running it day and night. This plant mixed 120 tons yesterday and ground 96. The maximum grinding capacity is 100 tons a day. The Peoria plant, which was the first plant to be converted to manufacture the 'Sucrene' cattle food is not yet in shape to make maximum output. We expect to have the conversion of the Owensboro plant and the construction of the Chicago plant completed in a short time. Through the retirement of the preferred stock over $1,100,000 out of a total $1,500,000 preferred now being retired by the exchange for DuPont Powder Company preferred stock, all capital liability ahead of the Marsden common stock, excepting less than $400,000 preferred, has been gotten out of the way, thus placing in the hands of the common shareholders the equity to virtually all the profits the company may make. The balance of DuPont-International Powder Company preferred stock remaining in the Marsden Company treasury after the retirement of over 75 per cent of Marsden preferred is about $1,250,000, on which the income to the Marsden Company this year, at 5 per cent, will be about $62,500, and this income may be increased next year by the sliding scale dividend. The Marsden Company will get the income on $120,000 DuPont International 5s. The total income would be sufficient to nearly pay off the half dozen years of accumulated dividend on the less than $400,000 Marsden 6 per cent preferred stock still outstanding, but it is not expected this will be done."

Harry J. Bovard has applied for membership in the Pittsburgh stock exchange.

The board of directors of the Pittsburgh Surety Company, of which Mr. George I. Whitney was recently elected president, has declared a dividend of 6 per cent on the capital stock out of its earnings, and at a meeting of the stockholders held the capital stock was increased from $125,000 to $250,000.

The question having arisen whether trading in North American Savings Company stock is old or new, Chairman Chaplin of the Pittsburgh stock exchange read a letter from Treasurer Fraser, which said that 25 stockholders out of 450 had still in their possession certificates dated previous to November 1. Such certificates, when presented for exchange, would receive 70 per cent in Fort Pitt National bank stock and 50 per cent in North American Savings Company stock. All stock dated after November 1 presented for transfer will receive new North American stock. Traders in the security should specify whether it is old or new stock they are handling.

Some 400 tickets have already been sold for the annual banquet of the Bankers and Bank Clerks' Mutual Benefit Association at the Hotel Schenley next Monday evening.

In their weekly review of the Pittsburgh coal trade R. G. Dun & Co. say: "A shortage of cars has affected many mines in the district and in some quarters shipments have been delayed four and five weeks. For several years past it has been a usual condition that a scarcity existed when they were most needed for heavy lake shipments. The railroad mines are doing as well as they can under the circumstances and are moving considerable coal, but it is thought that this year's shipments northwest will not equal those of last year. The domestic demand for coal is better and prices are firmer than for some time."

Concerning the glass trade they say: "The executive committee of the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' Window Glass association announced the minimum price of 90, 20 and 2½ as the lowest figures at which glass up to and including the third bracket should pass from manufacturer to jobber. Above the third bracket the present minimum price is 90, 10 and 2½. These prices are subject to revision, whenever in the judgment of the executive committee, a reduction or advance is deemed advisable. At the present time there is a good demand for glass and higher prices than those above named are obtainable for good assortments of well selected stock. The largest single producer of window glass is not a member of the association, but is selling direct to the trade and competition is strong."

Gross earnings of Wabash for the second week in November increased $13,817.

The Philadelphia Electric Company has declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent (2½ cents per share) on the paid-in capital, payable December 15 to stock of record November 19.

The annual report of the United Fruit Company shows net earnings from all sources of $2,077,775, against $2,077,747 last year. The company has $15,586,658 capital on which it paid $967,615 in dividends, leaving a surplus of $912,674.

The stock of the Calumet & Hecla Company touched $700 a share this week on the Boston stock exchange. The stock has advanced steadily since last July, when the price was around 465. The high figure made this week shows an extreme rise of 265 points, but even at that the high mark made in 1899 is a long way off. In 1894 Calumet sold around $300 a share and paid $15 in dividends. In 1899 it rose to $895 a share and paid $100 a share in dividends. Today it is selling around $700 and paying $40. For the year the company will produce in the neighborhood of 85,000,000 pounds of refined copper which ought to show a net profit in round numbers of $5,500,000.

The engagement of $500,000 additional gold for shipment to Paris today and the promise of a reflection in the bank statement of the heavy withdrawal of gold for export were without influence, as money on call was easy and banks which held out for the 2½ per cent rate had difficulty in placing all of their available funds. The reports by the banks of the week's currency movement by express showed a considerable balance in favor of New York and the mid-month tide of pension payments is modifying the sub-treasury requirements on the banks. The strong condition of Chicago national banks as of November 10 in accordance with the call of the controller attracted favorable comment and it was alleged that Chicago institutions were seeking to place many millions of loans in Wall street.

Secretary Shaw's call upon national banks for government deposits set a definite period for that operation and thus relieved the uncertainty regarding it which has been weighing upon the money market to an extent. With a requirement for 10 per cent of deposits held deferred to January 15 and calling for but $10,000,000 and the remainder of the $25,000,000 or 25 per cent of holdings left to as late as March 15, the operation causes little apprehension. The January reflux of funds from the interior is expected to have set in to meet the first installment and the normal ease of the spring money markets is looked to to provide for the second installment.

A good impression was caused by the reports of the large number of railroad employes who are being restored to their work after having been laid off during the period of retrenchment. Railroad gross earnings so far reported for the first week in November are estimated to show an increase considerably exceeding 25 per cent compared with the corresponding week of last year and the second week's earnings show the higher level well maintained.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Money was in good demand in the market today. Discounts were firmer owing to the prospects of further gold exports and unfavorable continental exchanges. Business on the stock exchange was mostly buoyant and moderately active on the more hopeful view taken of the political situation. Consols hardened and home rails were more animated. Americans opened strong in response to the tone in New York and on local and continental support, advanced to well above parity and closed firm. Foreigners were strong on Paris support. The new Japanese loan is receiving much attention and considerable satisfaction is expressed at the promptness in making the allotments. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 94⅜. Consols for money, 85⅛; consols for account, 85 5-16; bar silver quiet at 26⅞d an ounce; money, 2@2½ per cent; the rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 5 per cent, the rate of discount for three months' bills is 2 15-16@3 per cent.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Trading on the bourse today was calm and prices were firm. Russian Imperial 4s were quoted at 94.31 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 86.5. The decline in Russian bonds was due to the payment of coupons. Three per cent rentes, 98 francs 42½ centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 14 centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—Prices improved on the boerse today. Exchange on London, 20 marks 80 pfgs. for checks; discount rates, short bills, ¼ per cent; three months' bills, 4⅛ per cent.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the San Francisco and Seattle assay offices today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $13,046. Of this amount $1,333 had been deposited at San Francisco and $12,613 at Seattle. Total this paid since Friday, $184,602, against $835,535 for the same period a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $6,500,000. Payments

SALE OF $90,000 IN POINT BREEZE

John A. Murtland Holdings Are Bought as Site for Four Apartment Houses.

EAST END RESIDENCE SOLD

Through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company Architect Edward J. Schellentrager has purchased the John A. Murtland property at Penn and Homewood avenues, Point Breeze. The consideration could not be learned from the brokers, but it is reported to be between $80,000 and $100,000. This is one of the choicest vacant sites in the East End, being opposite the residence of Henry C. Frick and near the Rook holdings. The lot faces 238 feet in Penn avenue and 176 feet in Homewood avenue and has on it many large shade trees. The purchase was made in the interest of a well-known eastern syndicate who are extensive builders in New York and for whom Mr. Schellentrager has done considerable work. Plans are now being prepared by him for four apartment houses which will be equal to any similar buildings in the East End. Each building will be six stories high, strictly fireproof and equipped with high speed elevators. The walls will be of pressed brick and terra cotta and the finish throughout will be hardwood. The suites will have from six to eight rooms and all rooms will be large and well lighted. A feature of the apartment buildings will be a roof garden, part of which will be enclosed to allow space for children to play with safety. Freight elevators will be installed and dumb waiters, storage rooms, laundries and dryers will be provided. Special arrangements have been made for the accommodations of servants, and nothing that contributes to the comfort and convenience of tenants in a high-class apartment house has been omitted in the plans. It is said that bids will be taken on the project soon.

East End Residence Sold.

The residence of D. W. Dunlevy at 371 Atlantic avenue is reported sold to a local buyer for $14,000. The lot is 40x140 feet and is on the east side of the avenue, near Harriet street, and extends back to Archon alley. The residence is a modern 12-room reception hall brick house.

Thomas Beatty has sold to Abraham Rubinovitz its 1600 feet at the southeast corner of Butler and Forty-fourth streets, Seventeenth ward, for $21,000. The property was formerly owned by Frank McCann.

A man who is in close touch with the mortgage market said yesterday that comparatively few large loans are being place now. The call for money is light, and most of the mortgages being arranged for are on properties worth not more than $20,000. For such loans the prevailing rate is 6 per cent, although in a few cases a rate of 5.5 per cent is secured. Five per cent is quoted on larger loans and where the risk is down town and first-class and the classification satisfactory a rate of 4.5 per cent is now and then obtained. Men who are handling eastern moneys are very careful about their risks, and although more money is offering than a few months ago, there is little danger of the wild speculative loaning that prevailed three years ago and which resulted so disastrously.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 10@11 points in response to lower European cables and liberal Brazilian receipts. LIVELY TRADE IN SPICES; MAPLE SYRUP DOWN

Few Changes in Grocery Market—Nuts and Apples Are Selling Fast.

The chief interest to the grocery market is centered in the increasing trade in articles that go to make up a good Thanksgiving dinner. Spices are in excellent demand and there is a stiff market for mincemeat, while nuts, candies and all kinds of canned fruits are selling well and are firm at quotations. Only a few changes were made yesterday in quotations. Cornmeal was marked up 25 cents a barrel and rolled oats suffered a slight decline. Maple syrup can now be had for $1 a gallon. Navy beans were marked down a little and split peas shared the same fate. No. 1, No. 2 and pocket salt were marked up from 10 to 15 cents a barrel.

Apples and oranges led the market in fruits. Oranges are in fair supply and the price is steady at quotations. Nuts are selling in large quantities. No fruit had arrived yesterday up to 10 o'clock and the supply on hand is likely to be drawn upon heavily in the next few days.

The scarcity of fresh eggs is a feature of the market. Some dealers say that it is impossible to get any eggs that they can recommend as fresh, and it is safe to say that the supply arriving daily is not enough to meet a fraction of the demand. Selected and candled eggs are a result are firm at the prices quoted. Trade in general is better and poultry, pigs and rabbits are selling in large quantities.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay, grain and feed yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines, 9 cars oats, 11 cars corn, 9 cars hay, 1 car rye, 6 cars bran, 2 cars corn, 2 cars feed; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 12 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car corn; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 2 cars oats.

Dealing on the exchange was very slow yesterday and no sales of importance were reported. Fifty-four cents was bid for new shelled corn, but there were no sales. Good hay is in first-class demand. Only a few cars of No. 1 hay have arrived this week, most of it having too much undergrowth in it to be graded good. Straw is also poor in quality and very little is graded up to No. 1. There is little rye straw in the market, something quite unusual at this season, and the call for it is strong.

REPORTS OF DAMAGE IN THE SOUTHWEST

They Cause Active Covering by the Shorts and Firmness in Wheat Market.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Reiterated reports of damage in the southwest caused active covering of wheat today, resulting in a firm market. At the close both December and May deliveries were up ¼c. Corn is down ⅝@⅞c. Oats are up a shade. Provisions are practically unchanged.

Sentiment in the wheat pit at the opening was bearish. Contributing to the depression were lower cables and a report of liberal shipments from Argentina. Northwestern receipts, which for some time past have been smaller than for the corresponding days a year ago, were somewhat in excess today. That fact, taken in connection with the continued excellent weather for the movement of the crop, had much to do with the initial weakness. Opening quotations on December were off ¼@⅝c at $1 10¾ to $1 10⅞. May was down ¼@⅝c to ⅝c lower at $1 10⅝@1 10¾ to $1 10⅞. During the first hour selling was quite general, commission houses and pit traders having plenty of offerings on the market. The demand, however, was comparatively light and, in consequence, prices declined still further, December selling off to $1 10. May reacted to $1 10¾. Later sentiment in the pit became bullish and, on active covering by shorts, the market experienced a substantial rally. One cause of the improved demand was a report from Minneapolis claiming sales of 60,000 barrels of flour there today. Another factor was a report of a St. Louis trade journal saying there had been no relief from drouth conditions in the southwest. On the advance December sold up to $1 11¼ and May to $1 11⅛. The market closed from with December at $1 11⅛@1 11¼. Primary receipts were 1,048,000 bushels, compared with 1,045,300 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 889 cars, against 801 cars last week and 783 cars a year ago.

Large receipts and better grading induced free selling of December corn and, in consequence, the price of that delivery declined over a cent. Lower cables and clear weather were additional bear factors. December opened ¼@⅝c to ½@⅝c lower at 50c to 50¼c, sold off to 49½c and closed at 49⅝c. May sold between 45½c and 45¾c and closed at 45¾c. Local receipts were 433 cars, one of contract grade.

The trading in oats was exceedingly quiet and prices held steady. December opened a shade lower at 28¾c, sold between 28⅝@28¾c and 28⅝c and closed at 28¾c. May ranged between 31¾c and 31⅝c and closed at 31¾c. Local receipts were 83 cars.

Provisions were easy as a result of liberal receipts of hogs and lower prices at the yards. The volume of business was very light. At the close January pork was off 5@7½c at $13 40. Lard and ribs were each down 2½c at $7 02½ and $6 50.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 54 cars; corn, 517 cars; oats, 73 cars; hogs, 15,000 head.

MINOR DRAWBACKS ARE NOT IMPEDING TRADE

Conditions Steadily Improve, Particularly in Steel and Textile Industries, and Foreign Commerce.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Business was retarded by the storms which interrupted telegraphic communication, but the loss was quickly recovered, and retail trade responded to the lower temperature, while a large jobbing distribution of holiday goods occurred. Fall River mills were reopened, but the operatives did not return in sufficient numbers to keep the machinery active, and there is still difficulty regarding the water supply in the Connellsville coke region, which handicaps the blast furnaces. Other commercial reports are encouraging, and, on the whole, conditions steadily improve. Gradual progress is desirable, providing less danger of such advances in prices as will curtail consumption.

Confidence is increasing, particularly in the steel and textile industries, and building operations are very vigorous for the season, while mercantile collections are more prompt. Farm staples are slightly cheaper in response to splendid dispatches from agricultural centers, and several freight blockades have delayed the delivery of manufactured merchandise. Railway earnings thus far reported for November are 8.6 per cent larger than last year.

Foreign trade is exceeding the most sanguine expectations. Official returns for October make the value of exports $102,070,396, exceeding every month on record, with the exception of October, 1900, which reported only $880,000 larger exports.

From the highest forms of machinery and other finished steel products down to scrap and pig iron there is evidence of a better demand and an upward tendency in quotations. Restricted supplies of coke have some influence, but more permanent and wholesome factors predominate. If the natural disposition to inflate prices is resisted, there is every reason to anticipate a satisfactory year's business in this industry during 1905, but recovery will be slower if consumption is discouraged by prohibitive quotations.

As the packer hide market is closely cleaned up, and many varieties sold for distant delivery, there is a tendency toward higher prices, despite the lessened activity. This strength is reflected in leather, which has the additional stimulus of continuous exports. New England shoe factories have large contracts on hand for spring delivery, and sales soon will soon start west with fall samples. Progress in cotton goods is still very slow, but buyers are gradually exhibiting a little more disposition to provide for the future.

Cheaper Bussian wools are being tried for clothing fabrics, and a large attendance is expected at the London sale next week. Failures this week numbered 217 in the United States, against 248 last year, and 27 in Canada, compared with 17 a year ago.

Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending November 17 aggregate 1,283,642 bushels, against 1,454,276 last week, 2,974,277 this week last year, 5,277,672 in 1902 and 5,518,930 in

HOMES FOR SIX WERE PURCHASED

Two Defendants in the Home Development Cases Told Their Stories to a Jury.

GIRL FAINTED IN COURT ROOM

Albert Dodge, one of the defendants in the Home Development conspiracy cases, resumed his testimony yesterday morning and corrected an error in his story of the preceding day, by stating contracts expired in 16 years, instead of maturing. He stated that he came to Pittsburgh from Buffalo in May, 1903, as an employe of the Home company, and met Crawford of the Interstate Finance Company in October of that year. A merger was talked of, but the raid of the police came before the plans were carried out. He denied making promises to Mrs. Gudenhurr that her contracts would mature within a certain time, and explained the contracts.

Dodge testified that a number of contracts had matured and property had been purchased for them. The property was secured to the company by mortgages and records of these mortgages were offered in evidence. He said he acted as secretary of the Fidelity company temporarily, while the merger was being talked of, but that the different organizations still maintained their individuality, till January when he left, being succeeded by G. M. Kirby. One of the contract holders, he said, was given his money back for the reason that the party who gave the contract represented that it would mature within a certain time. He claimed he received no money from the concern except his salary and did not get all of that.

The witness testified to acquaintance with Hopkins and others whose names have been mentioned in connection with these companies, but said he had no stock in the Fidelity company, but had 31 shares in the Buffalo concern.

Dodge claimed no connection with the Fidelity company, and explained the bond for $10,000 was given by him in view of the prospective merger, so that he could assume the duties without delay. He said the Home company had between 500 and 600 contracts and about $7,000 had been taken in and paid in on properties. He signed about 300 contracts for the Fidelity company, and six people had gotten properties on the maturity of their contracts.

Testimony of the Stenographer.

Miss Margaret Abrams testified she was employed by Crawford as a stenographer. He told her that the interstate, the Home and the Fidelity companies were all in the same office, but distinct companies. She said Crawford told her of the proposed merger. She was employed at the Fourth avenue office about the middle of January last.

L. J. McGhie, who had offices with the development companies, said he knew of no connections between them.

E. J. Bechdel, one of the defendants, who resides in Crafton, said he was one of the members of the Fidelity Home Assurance Company, which was changed to the name of the Fidelity Home & Realty Company in April, 1903. He was employed as president of the company. He said that $17,000 had been taken in and about $8,000 spent on mortgages.

C. W. Marshall, another defendant, also of Crafton, said that he was secretary and treasurer of the company on a salary. There is still coming to him, he said, $421. He resigned his position in December last. On cross-examination, the witness said he had invested $500 in the company. When this witness' testimony had finished, court was adjourned.

At a session of juvenile court before Judge McClung, considerable excitement was caused by the fainting of a girl when she received her sentence. Katie Connolly was before the court on a charge of stealing a coat at a dance from Clarissa Meinz. The court sentenced the girl to be taken to the Home of the Good Shepherd, Troy Hill, Allegheny, and as he did so, she caught sight of an older sister and screamed "save me." She then fell on the floor in a faint and had to be carried to the jail by deputy sheriffs. Emma Williams, indicted with her, was returned to her relatives.

Rebuke for Truant Officer.

When the case of Richard Corless was before the court, Judge McClung administered a rebuke to a truant officer, who was a witness in the case. He said he thought he would have probation officers appointed to care for the truant officers. It developed during the hearing that the boys where Corliss attended were in the habit of buying cigarettes from the janitor of the building. Corliss was sent to a truant school and ran away from there. The court then brought out the fact of the cigarettes being sold, and for allowing this, rebuked the truant officer.

Corliss was brought into court on a petition of his mother, who claims she cannot keep him in school or manage him. Corliss was taken to the detention rooms and will be disposed of later.

C. F. McMombs, manager of the Federal Lead and Zinc Smelting Company, with offices in the Arcade building, was convicted of a charge of false pretense. The charge was made by Alice Reichard of Kelly street, who alleged that the defendant sold her stock of the company under misrepresentations. She alleged he secured $545 from her. The mines of the company are in Missouri and the plaintiff claims they are not in operation, although stock is being sold. The defense will probably apply for a new trial.

James Kennedy, Carl Hamilton, James Rafferty, Jr., and William McDonald were convicted of a charge of aggravated assault and battery and the latter three were recommended to the mercy of the court. The charge was made by Nicholas E. Simon, who alleged the defendants beat him into insensibility in Duquesne. Kennedy was fined $25 and costs and the other defendants were let off with the payment of the costs.

Dancing Master Sued for Divorce.

Hannah Rotman, in her testimony before a commissioner in a suit for divorce against her husband, Benjamin Rotman, charges infidelity. She avers they lived together about a year after their marriage. Rotman is a musician and conducts a dancing school on Crawford street. Besides charging him with infidelity with various persons unknown, she has a witness, Lizzie Liberman, aged 18, who testifies to having been intimate with Rotman at his dancing school on July 17 last.

Bessie Stemmler filed a petition asking the court to compel her husband, William J. Stemmler, to pay for her maintenance pending the divorce suit he has brought against her. The court granted a rule to show why he should not do so. In her petition she denies the charge of infidelity he brings and sets forth that she had brought action against him for non-support which the court set aside, as he had entered proceedings for divorce here.

On Monday the case of Franz Debold, Sr., is on the criminal court trial list. Debold is charged with hacking his son, Francis Debold, Jr., to death with an ax at his home in Heidelberg. The murder occurred on the morning of August 20. Alienists will examine into his sanity, his attorneys alleging insanity.

On the same day the case of Titus Le Bobula is set for trial. The defendant is charged with voluntary manslaughter. He is alleged to have caused the death of Mary Stauffer of Duquesne, while driving his automobile. De Bobula is an architect.

The case of Dan McCarthy is set for Wednesday. McCarthy is alleged to have been the cause of his wife's death, which occurred at the Allegheny General hospital on June 19 last. Mrs. McCarthy was found at her home in South avenue, Allegheny, in an unconscious condition and was removed to the hospital. Her death was said to have been caused by her husband kicking her while she was in delicate health. She is said to have remained in her home for three days without food after she received the beating alleged to have been given her by her husband.

Accounting of a Large Estate.

The first accounting of the estate of Alice Cornelia Thaw has been filed by the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, charging itself with $861,281 82 as received. The amount is made up of the following securities: Eleven bonds Texas & Pacific railway, 16 bonds of Girard Point Storage Company, 25 bonds city of Allegheny, 100 bonds United States government, 1,100 shares Pennsylvania railroad, 400 shares Standard Oil, New York and Cleveland Gas and Coal Company notes, $70,000; cash, $188,124 45.

John L. Ketter entered suit against Herman Welter for $500 damages and had a capias issued for his arrest. He avers that Welter came into his yard at 2175 Webster street and maliciously injured a horse belonging to the plaintiff so badly that it could not live.

In the United States circuit court, before Judge Archbald, the case of Herman Weltsch against the Iron City Tool works was placed on trial. The suit is for damages and alleges a breach of contract.

In the case of Judge S. Hays against the Schultz Iron and Bridge Company, the American Bridge Company and the American Bridge Company, it was decided to let the case go over and try it before the court without a jury. Hays is suing for $8,809 91, which he alleges is due him as an agent of the defendants.

A petition in voluntary bankruptcy was filed by John Edward Kuhn, a merchant of Mountaindale, Cambria county. He gives his liabilities as $7,650 82 and his assets as $5,077 69.

Executions issued: Charles Dassko vs. Francis J. Bohan, $38 82; Elizabeth Laughrey, for use, vs. Hughes & Desmores, $464 04; same vs. same, $604 25; Max Klein & Son vs. Christ Echard, $267 50.

RATE WAR AGAIN IS THREATENED

Still Lower Steamship Fares Would Mean Great Increase in Immigration.

CUNARD LINE ON WAR PATH

Another rate war is imminent between two great transatlantic steamship companies and an additional influx of aliens is anticipated. Credence is given to the report that the Cunard line will withdraw from the North Atlantic conference. In this event passenger rates between America and Europe will doubtless reach a minimum lower than that which characterized the recent struggle for immigration business.

The threatened reduction in fares was precipitated by the efforts to patch up peace between competing companies. After an unprecedented period of rate cutting the British lines decided to increase fares, and it looked like easy sailing toward an amicable settlement, when the Cunard officials demanded a differential. This was not conceded by the other lines and the White Star took up the cudgels. The consequence is that an agreement appears remote.

The minimum English steerage rate is now $12 75 and the continental lines have a minimum of $33. It was during the efforts to restore the old order of things on the rate sheets that the differential rate was revived. The fact that local steamship agencies have not been notified of restored rates is significant of fresh hostilities which have broken out in London.

Pittsburgh agents are peculiarly unconcerned as to what is going on at the headquarters of the big steamship lines. The difference in the cost of a trip across the Atlantic has little effect on business originating in Pittsburgh. To persons interested in the immigration question, however, the issue is vastly more important, and if rates are reduced, the number of foreigners which will flood this district will be tremendous. Exceedingly low fares on the continental lines always means the bringing of the least desirable people to America.

"The last thing a Pittsburgher asks when he buys a ticket," said John T. Morgan, agent for the Hamburg-American line, who came from New York yesterday, "is the price. It is a common saying among the captains of the big transatlantic steamers that you will find people from Pittsburgh filling the choice staterooms. People from this city who travel second cabin are just as prodigal in proportion to their wealth. I have not received official notification of the trouble between the Cunard and the White Star lines, but reports from a London source can generally be relied upon."

"We're too busy booking passengers for the oriental and West Indian cruises to dabble in a new rate war in European business," said J. V. McCormick of J. J. McCormick & Co. "I wonder if they don't know that we have just had a confidence-restoring election over here? In the last week our inquiries show that scores of people are contemplating a winter vacation, having come to this decision since the result of last week's ballot."

PRINCE GRATEFUL TO AMERICANS

SYMPATHY AMONG PEOPLE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Prince Fushimi, his party and his escorts left Washington today for St. Louis. Before leaving on behalf of the prince, Mr. A. Sato, grand master of the household of his imperial highness, made this statement:

Since the arrival in this country his imperial highness has been deeply impressed with the good will and courteous attention universally shown him by the people of the United States. Genuine sympathy for Japan entertained by them in her present struggle is a source of profound satisfaction to his highness, and he hopes earnestly that his mission of friendship and good will may in some measure be conducive of strengthening the tie of amity and good correspondence which happily exist between the two countries.

His imperial highness especially feels grateful to the president of the United States, who, representing as he does the sentiments of the people of this great republic, has extended to him a most cordial welcome and his imperial highness does not hesitate to say that the unalloyed pleasure he has already derived and will hereafter derive from his visit to this country would far outweigh that of his military achievements in the battlefields of Manchuria.

At St. Louis an elaborate program for the reception of the prince is planned, including the dinner by President Francis, the dinner by the Japanese charge d'affaires, reception by the mayor of St. Louis and by the board of lady managers.

The prince and party will leave St. Louis on the 24th, thence traveling incognito to Philadelphia, New York, Boston and Chicago.

Before leaving the city Prince Fushimi distributed money presents to the bicycle police who accompanied him through his various drives about the city and also to his coachmen and footmen.

As personal gifts from the mikado, Prince Fushimi sent to Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Hay, wife of the secretary of state, teak wood chests mounted in solid silver, each containing priceless silks, embroideries, fans, carvings and other articles of Japanese workmanship.

Pitzer Gusher Has Slumped, But Is Still a Good Producer

West of Mannington, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company's gusher on the C. S. Pitzer farm has slumped some, but is still a very nice producer. The second 24 hours after it was drilled deeper it produced 700 barrels. The next well due in this development is the South Penn's No. 4 on the C. S. Pitzer farm. It is drilling at 2,630 feet and should get the sand in about 10 days. About the same time the Delmar Oil Company will be due with a second test on the Hays farm and Bendum & Trees at a test on the Holdren farm.

Near Bula, Battelle district, Marion county, the Minor Oil and Gas Company has drilled its No. 6 on the Josephine Thomas farm from the Big Injun to the Gordon, and the well produced 60 barrels in three 24 hours after it was drilled into the pay. This was a gasser in the upper formation. This well is west of the good producer drilled in on the Alfred Sines farm about two months ago.

In the Smithfield district Greenlee & Co. have drilled their test on the S. P. McDougal farm into the Big Injun pay and the well produced 25 barrels the first 24 hours. The pay was reached at about 50 feet in the sand.

In the Pine Grove extension, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the W. L. Brookover farm into the Gordon and has developed no oil or gas. It is still drilling in the sand and has a show for a pay. The same company's No. 2 on the Wise Postelwait is 15 feet in the stray and has developed no oil or gas. The test on the Gabriel Postelwait farm has filled up 1,500 feet with fluid and will be given a shot.

Near Downs station, Marion county, the Fairmont and Grafton Gas Company has given its test on the J. L. Morgan farm a shot, but failed to increase its production. When drilled early in the week this test started at 125 barrels a day and is now producing 58 barrels.

Near Sedalia, Doddridge county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled its test on the W. J. Booher farm into the Gordon and has a fair gasser.

In the Bristoria field, in Greene county, Pa., the South Penn has completed its No. 3 on the I. M. Grim farm and has a gasser.

In the Burning Springs district, in Wirt county, Emma A. Mapes has completed No. 10 on the Rathbone Oil tract and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the second Cow Run sand at a depth of 340 feet.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the Carter Oil Company has completed its test on the L. W. Arthur farm and has a duster. The same company has drilled its No. 11 on the Rebecca Curry farm through the Berea grit and has a show for a 25-barrel producer.

On the Ohio side in the Newport district, Washington county, Morrison & Co. have shot their No. 5 on the A. Friedal farm, in the Berea grit, and it produced 350 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. This is the best producer that has been found in that district. North of Marietta, in the same county, the Clark Oil Company, Hammond & Campbell have completed their No. 6 on the C. L. Perdew farm and have a duster in the first Cow Run sand.

In the upper Homeworth district, Columbiana county, the Renner-Delbel Company has drilled its test on the William Barber farm deeper and it is reported that the well produced 90 barrels the first 24 hours natural. If as good as reported, this is the best producer ever found in the Homeworth field. The oil is developed in the Berea grit at a depth of 700 feet. The location of the good producer on the Barber farm is about 600 feet north of A. Lutz's No. 1 on the Teeters farm. Lutz & Co. are getting up close to the line and have made the location for No. 4 on the Teeters farm, 70 feet south of the Barber farm producer.

At Darlington, Beaver county, the Lima Oil Company has completed a second test on the W. H. Elder farm and has a show for a very light pumper, not more than two barrels a day.

Pennsylvania Lines Arrange Changes for Winter Schedule

The passenger officials of the Pennsylvania lines west gave out the changes agreed upon for the time card to be put into effect November 27. Two trains each way will be added to the Beaver valley service. The new trains are to be run on fast schedule, making the trip from Beaver Falls to Pittsburgh in 45 minutes, and the arrival and departure being such that business men having homes in the Beaver valley district may get to and from the city at convenient hours. The new service is intended especially for the Beaver valley patrons. One of the trains will start from Steubenville and run by way of Wellsville, East Liverpool, Beaver and Rochester. It will leave Steubenville at 6:35 a. m., city time. Returning, the train will leave the Union station at 5:02 p. m., running over the same route as the eastbound train. The second train will leave Beaver Falls at 7 a. m., and returning, will leave the Union station at 10 p. m. Another feature will be an additional fast train to St. Louis. The train put on for the world's fair business, leaving here at 2 p. m., will be continued. Train No. 3 over the Panhandle for Chicago will leave at 11:15 a. m. Cafe dining cars are to be installed between Pittsburgh and Chicago and Cleveland to replace buffet cars.

Tristram, assistant general passenger agent of the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal and of the Wabash railroad, will be married today in Pittsburgh. The bride-elect is Mrs. George A. De Broke. They will live in Highland avenue, Pittsburgh. Mr. Tristram has been an officer of the passenger department of the Wabash for a number of years." When seen regarding the matter Mr. Tristram denied the statement contained in the telegram. He stated emphatically that he did not know any person of the name given. He is unable to understand how such a report could have been made, as he intends to remain the master of his own household in the Fifth avenue flats.

Within the past week the Ft. Wayne has received 38 additional freight engines for immediate use. Twenty-five more were ordered recently from the Juniata shops. The first engine of this order arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday and all will have been delivered by December 1. The need of additional motive power to take care of the increasing business of the company caused the purchase of these 63 engines.

THREE LINEMEN ARRESTED.

County Light Company Must Not String Wires in Allegheny.

The Allegheny police yesterday arrested James McGowan, William Collier and Frank Lapner, employes of the Allegheny County Light Company, in Hopkins street. The men are charged by Superintendent Campbell with violating a city ordinance. At the time of their arrest they were stringing wires on the company's poles.

Some time ago the Allegheny County Light Company obtained an injunction to restrain Director McIlvain from chopping down poles and cutting wires belonging to the company. Subsequently McIlvain gave orders that the light company be prevented from doing any work in Allegheny until the case is settled in court. He declares the company has failed to pay its pole tax for several years.

Electricians to Visit Gazette Plant.

Charles Baab and 15 members of the Electric club of Wilkinsburg, composed chiefly of employes of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, have asked permission and been accorded a cordial invitation to visit the plant of The Gazette this evening on a tour of inspection along educational lines.

PROPERTY OWNERS OBJECT.

Declare That the Pennsylvania Company Is Building Piers on Private Property in Allegheny.

The Pennsylvania Company is having trouble trying to erect a foot bridge over its tracks at Ontario street, Allegheny. Property owners declare the company is attempting to set its piers on private property. Workmen were stopped on Thursday by several property owners and A. C. Wilson drove some men from his property yesterday. Later he made arrangements with his attorney to have an injunction issue if the company made any further effort to go to work on his ground.

The company is working under an ordinance granted by city councils, but it is said that at the time the measure was passed representations were made to the effect that the company owned all the property that would be affected by the erection of the bridge.

Ordinance Officer William Penwell visited the disputed territory yesterday and ordered work stopped. He says the company is more than five feet away from the line established by the city engineers, who fixed the construction line. Mrs. Mary Ferris, in front of whose home a hole had been dug, covered the hole with boards and placing a crab there remained seated on it all day. Penwell wanted her to move so that the hole could be filled, but she refused to go.

Nine Nations
Now Use Liquozone. Won't You Try It—Free?
Liquozone is now used almost the world over. Peoples half-the-world away from you are curing their ills by it. And so are people next door to you—your neighbors, your friends. Won't you ask some of them what Liquozone is doing? Then ask us for a bottle to try?

Liquozone is so new that few people realize how many millions are using it. One year ago it was almost unknown in America. Now nearly half the people you meet—wherever you are—know someone whom Liquozone has cured.

Don't you realize that a product which has spread like this must have remarkable merit? We have never asked a soul to buy Liquozone. We have published no testimonials, no evidence of cures. We have only asked the sick to let us buy the first bottle—to let the product itself show what it could do. Those sick ones told others and the others told others. That is how it has spread.

Won't you do as those millions have done? If you are still using medicine for what medicine cannot cure, won't you learn what others know about Liquozone? Won't you let us pay the cost of your test?

Not Medicine.
Liquozone is not a medicine. It is not made by compounding acids or drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. Each cubic inch of Liquozone requires the use of 1,250 cubic inches of the gas.
Liquozone is the result of a process, which, for more than 20 years, has been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. The main result is to get into a liquid, and thus into the blood, a powerful, yet harmless, germicide. Another result is to create a vitalizing tonic with which no other known product can compare.

Acts Like Oxygen.
The great value of Liquozone lies in the fact that it does what oxygen does. Oxygen is the vital part of air, the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. It is the blood food, the nerve food, the scavenger of the blood. It is oxygen that turns the blue blood to red in the lungs; that eliminates the waste tissue and builds up the new. Too little oxygen always causes lack of vitality. An excess of it gives strength to every function of Nature.
Oxygen is also a germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and an excess of oxygen—the very life of an animal—is deadly to vegetal matter.
Liquozone acts like oxygen. But it does more than oxygen, because it is stable. It carries its virtues into the blood to go wherever the blood goes. It is a remarkable tonic—the best thing in the world for you. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill.
The discoverer of Liquozone has solved the great problem of killing germs in the body, without killing the tissues, too. And there is no other way. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Liquozone is the only way that any man knows to end the cause of any germ disease.

We Paid $100,000
For the American rights to Liquozone; and the British rights sold for a like sum. That is the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery.
Before making this purchase we tested the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. We employed it in all germ diseases; in thousands of the most difficult cases obtainable. We proved that in germ troubles it did what all the skill in the world could not accomplish without it.
Now Liquozone is more widely employed than any medicine ever was. It is more widely prescribed by the better physicians. And no one can doubt that it is doing more for sick humanity than all the drugs in use combined.

Germ Diseases.
These are the known germ diseases; all due to germs, or the poisons which germs create. These are the diseases to which medicine does not apply, for drugs cannot kill inside germs.
All that medicine can do for these troubles is to act as a tonic, aiding Nature to overcome the germs. But those results are indirect and uncertain. They depend on the patient's condition. When drugs were prescribed for these troubles, nobody knew of germs. Now every good physician knows that they call for a germicide.
Liquozone alone can destroy the cause of these troubles. It goes wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it, and we have found no disease germ which can resist it. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. In any stage of any disease in this list, the results are so certain that we will gladly send to any patient who asks it an absolute guaranty.

The acceptance of this offer places you under no obligations. We simply wish to convince you; to let the product itself show you what it can do. Then you can judge by results as to whether you wish to continue.
This offer itself should convince you that Liquozone does as we claim. We would certainly not buy a bottle and give it to you, if there was any doubt of results. You want these results; you want to be well and to keep well. Then be fair enough to yourself to accept our offer today. Let us show you, at our expense, what this wonderful product means to you.
